● We find as we go through school that our study, our play, our service, and our creative work make us progress. We study to acquire knowledge; play for relaxation; create for enjoyment; and serve for satisfaction. All these activities are presented in the yearbook for 1938.

● With this in mind, the Silver Jubilee Edition of the Lincolnian gives to teachers, students, parents, and the out-of-school group, student life in service, play, and study at our new Lincoln High School.

May trouble

APPRECIATION

- We have been guided safely on our four years' course. We pause for an instant before starting on the next venture with sorrow for the parting and joy for the unknown with which we will deal more surely because of the experiences behind us.
- Youth is a constant venture upon waters uncharted in its experience. Pilots must have level heads who deal with youth among the storms of inexperience. Youth must have complete faith in the integrity and honor of its pilot . . .
- WE, the Graduates of 1938, have been piloted surely and fairly through four years of high school by Dr. Ethel Percy Andrus and WE wish to take this occasion to thank her for her constant expressions of interest and friendship which have endeared her to us. She has drawn upon her experience to guide us through situations beyond our comprehension and has foretold the location of reefs and shoals so that we might avoid them.

WINTER AND SUMMER
GRADUATES

MRS. MARJORIE NICHOLS SHEA

● Serves the girls of Lincoln in the capacity of Vice-Principal. She also undertakes the tremendous job of administrating the N.Y.A. for both girls and boys. Through her fine understanding and sympathy many students have been encouraged and assisted.

MR. ROGER B. VAN PELT

● The service Mr. Roger B. Van Pelt has rendered to the school as Boys' Vice-Principal has been invaluable. His fine friendship, encouragement and clear thinking have won the admiration of the community and the entire student body.

MISS LAURA B. BRIDGE

● The thing that Lincoln graduates remember longest after a visit to the campus is the way Miss Bridge hailed them by name as they walked into her office. Her deep interest in every student makes their names and faces stick in her memory. Knowing every student on the campus is one little feat in itself.

- This group of students are leaders of the school, for each holds a responsible position in student government. In addition to filling their commissionership, they meet regularly twice a month to solve the problems of the students and of the school.
- During the winter term the commissioners were ably headed by Student Body President Eddie Simon. With the aid of a strong cabinet and a board of commissioners of unusual ability, he was able to make his term outstanding.
- The commissioner's schedule, this semester, included inspirational talks to the new students. Each week, they informed them on the many opportunities offered and how they too, might serve.
- Credit is due this group of commissioners for the splendid morale which they created in the student body while the new Lincoln looked like a construction camp. Although without gates, sidewalks or covered passages, traffic was handled smoothly and confusion was avoided.

S'38 COMMISSIONERS

● After the winter term officers had done a splendid job, they were replaced by the capable group before you.

● At the helm this semester was Hubert Sanchez, whose continuous efforts and willingness to work, stamped him a capable leader. The remainder of the cabinet was composed of Louis Monteleone and Dorothy Birdsong, Boys' and Girls' Vice-Presidents; Helen Bennett, Student Body Secretary; Grace Okura and Bill Stair, the two Personnel commissioners, Edna Hardesty and Alice Rivera, the intra-mural and Extra-mural presidents, who, along with the other student commissioners of the House cooperated in making the term, S'38 a memorable one.

COMMUNITY SERVICE

- The Community Contact Council has completed another successful year.
- This service organization under the faculty sponsorship of Mr. Blount has successfully formed the Toy Loan Library which is enlightening the lives of many small children of the community.
- Every year the council brings joy to hundreds of children in the County Hospital, orphan homes and grammar schools. In this way the C.C.C. members are understanding the meaning of service.

ALICIA RIVERA
ROBERT ESTIN
ANNA MANUELE

SERVING OTHERS THEIR SOLE AIM

- This able group of Community Contact Council directors with their intelligent and willing assistants of fellow members have seen the establishment of the Toy Loan Library. They have served their community in ways varying from the umpiring of baseball games, teaching art, directing and giving plays, and forming glee clubs. At Easter the small children of the district were treated to an Easter egg hunt, funds for which were raised by a Barn Dance sponsored by the Council.
- The community is really fortunate that Lincoln students as a group are amazingly anxious to be of service to their community and school.

Mike Provenzano, Jack Maggard, Kendall Gillespie,
Kazuo Furuto, Louis Monteleone

CHATELAINES

- Companion organization of the Knights, only that they devote their time in assisting girls who find the going tough, the Chatelaines organization render outstanding service.
- The student leaders for the winter semester were: Vivian Cooper, President; Beverly Baker, Vice-President; Verda Mae Anderson, Recording Sec'y; and Jane Kaku, Post Sec'y.

KNIGHTS

- Interests and activities of the Knights organization are varied, but all center in setting and maintaining examples of good conduct and student morale.
- As an honor society, the Knights lead in encouraging boys in school to high standards. Mr. Blount, head of the science department, sponsors the organization.

DONALD NEWMAN
EMMA RAIMONDO

SQUIRES . . . LADYES

- Plenty of work is just ahead of these two Presidents of the Squires and Ladyes. They have served two years in increasingly responsible positions and are now functioning as an important part of the school's self governing group.
- The Squires and Ladyes organizations have become increasingly valuable to the community because of their extra-curricular services.

"LIKE THE BIRDIES SING"

- These officials of the school's glee clubs like to sing and they didn't mind at all letting the photographer know it.
- Able musicians, the combined glee clubs have appeared as entertainers at community gatherings, student presentations and over the radio.

MUSIC APPRECIATION

- The Lincoln String Ensemble has demonstrated cultural growth during this past year, thereby affording students an added joy and meaning to their school life.

Knights Advisory Board: Frank Kunz, Ralph Knowles, David Van Matre, Bert Scott, William Brown, Kazuto Furuto, Pat Tullmello, Norman La Vigne, Alex MacGillvary.

Chatelaines Advisory Board: Helen Adams, Kathryn Haynes, Dorothy Olsson, Haruko Kusanagi, Mamie Petrick, Frances Romano, Bonnie Bess Berg, Angelina Durant, Grace Okura, Irma Russell, Dorothy Orr, Helen Snider, Daisy De La Garde.

S'38 KNIGHTS

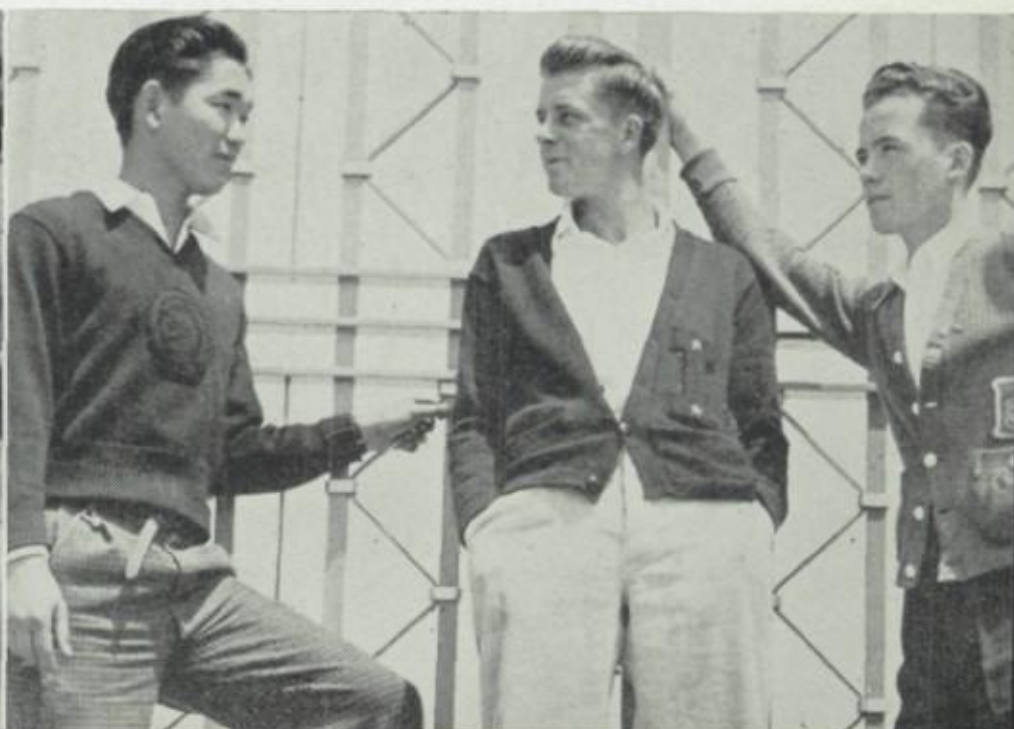

- Begun for the purpose of advising boys who find themselves in need of help, the Knights Advisory Board proved beneficial to all the members of the organization.
- On the opposite page Frank Kunz, President of the Knights, is issuing the weekly post assignments, but from the looks of the three Knights pictured below, their duty at the main entrance is quite a simple and enjoyable task.

S'38 CHATELAINES

- This council of Chatelaines shown on the opposite page, decide the fate of unruly members who break the fine traditions established by this organization through years of service.
- Always to be remembered by the Chatelaines and Knights organization was the privilege bestowed on them of commencing the beautification of the new school grounds.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

- Banners, strip signs, posters, place cards, linoleum cuts, as well as plain and fancy furniture painting come under the class of services offered by the Commercial Art classes to their school.
- Achievement along the lines of designing, illustrating, and painting will help many of these students to fit into useful places in the complex social system of this modern world.

CADETS IN REVIEW

- These R.O.T.C. boys show the result of concerted interest in one thing—perfection of their units.
- Whether it rains or shines, it can't stop the Army. Each day of the school year they are found drilling on the field or in the armory.

Steve Hadley, Cadet Major; Eugene Gaffney, Captain; Kendall Gillespie, Captain; Charles Pahrman, 1st Lieutenant; Louis Emme, 1st Lieutenant; James Jorgensen, 2nd Lieutenant; James Crumes, 2nd Lieutenant; Ray Harrison, 2nd Lieutenant, Adjutant.

A NATIONAL INSTITUTION

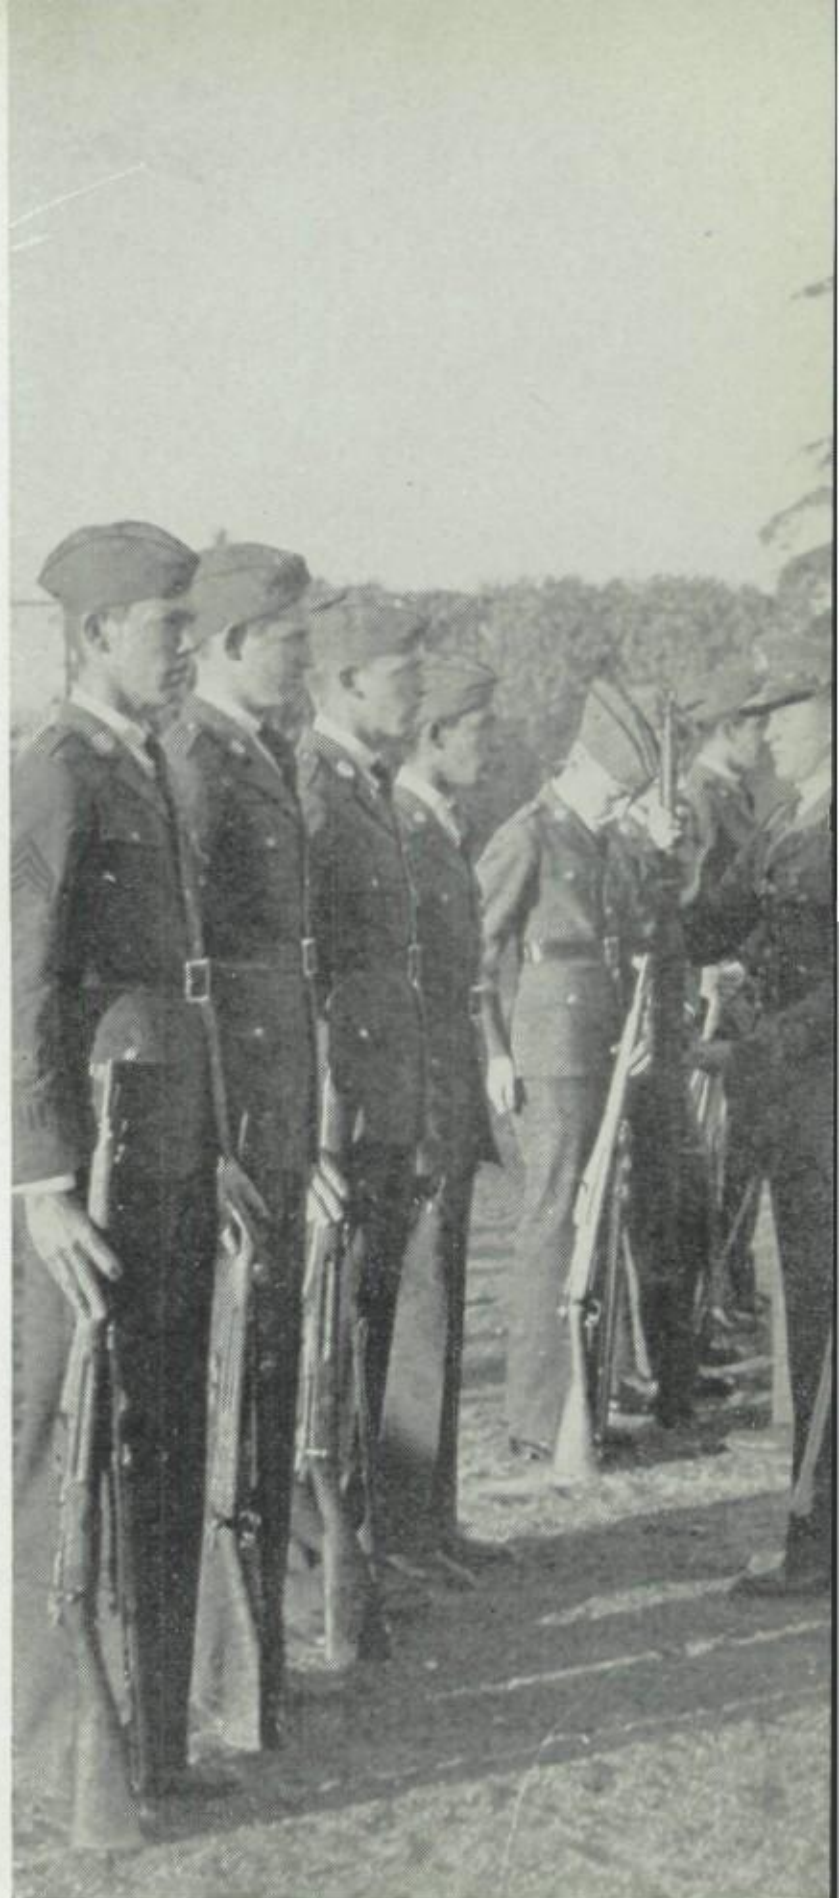

- The organization of the Reserve Officers Training Corps, an institution which is represented in schools throughout the United States, offers the chance for studying military science to students who do not attend Army Schools.
- The R. O. T. C. at Lincoln this year was made up of companies A. and B., both units commanded by the student Cadet Major.
- The corps has improved greatly under their expert instruction from Major James Dunsworth and Sergeant Behrens who has assisted in drilling the cadets on the field and in the armory this past year.

PREPAREDNESS IS PEACE INSURANCE

● Summer officers of the R.O.T.C. display their swords in a peaceful demonstration. Training in leadership has developed these young men to a state of responsibility reflected in all of their activities.

James Crumes, Captain; Jack Eggenweiller, 1st Lieutenant; Ralph Knowles, 2nd Lieutenant; James Jorgensen, Captain; Major Dunsworth; Louis Emme, Cadet Major; Rosario Chavez, 2nd Lieutenant; Jack Von Posch, Lieutenant Adjutant; and Charles Villavezo, 2nd Lieutenant.

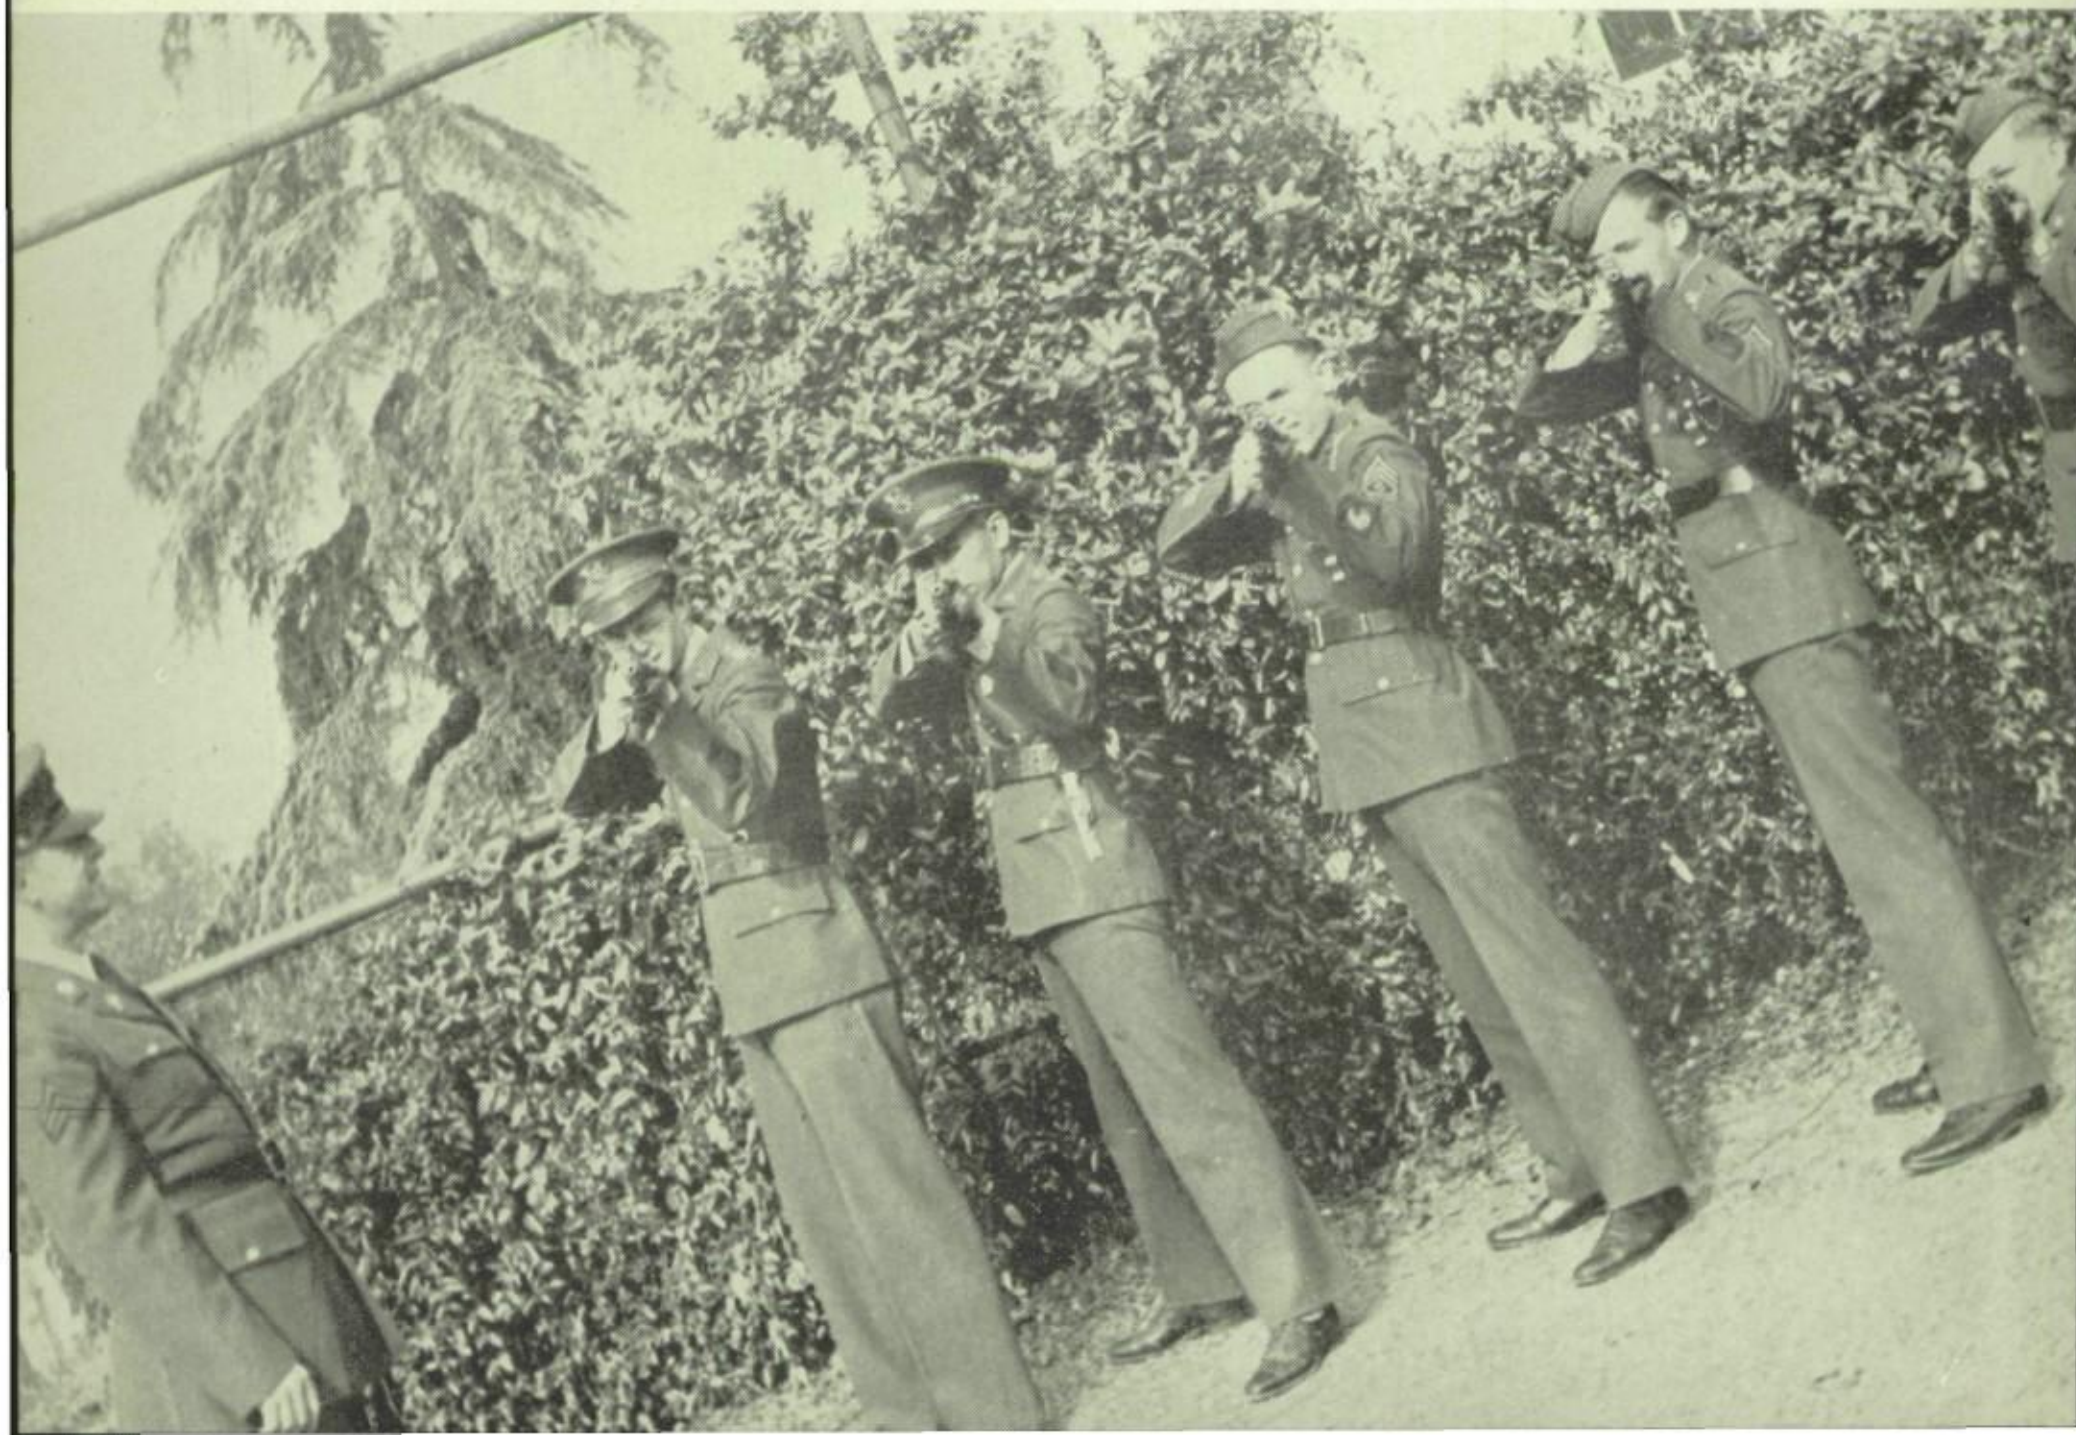

RIFLES READY

- Clean rifles at inspection time or else . . .
- In the Annual Inter-school Competition for honor school rating the unit made a very good showing.
- Practical knowledge and understanding characterize the orders accepted by the group. In distinct contrast to the regimentation of dictatorship, America's youth is encouraged to develop initiative and resourcefulness; thus, a new generation trained to uphold the peace of the world.

THEIR AIM IS TRUE

● But who wants to stand in front of the crack rifle squad of the unit. Under Sergeant Behrens they shoot from all positions, standing, lying, or otherwise.

Sergeant Behrens, James Jorgensen, Rosario Chavez, Ralph Herold, Clyde Plant, Richard Kress

ANTIQUATED

● Once the chief weapon used in combat, the sword is now confined almost entirely for ceremonial purposes. The bayonet, its modern counterpart, lacks the traditional romantic glitter, but has an equally deadly reputation.

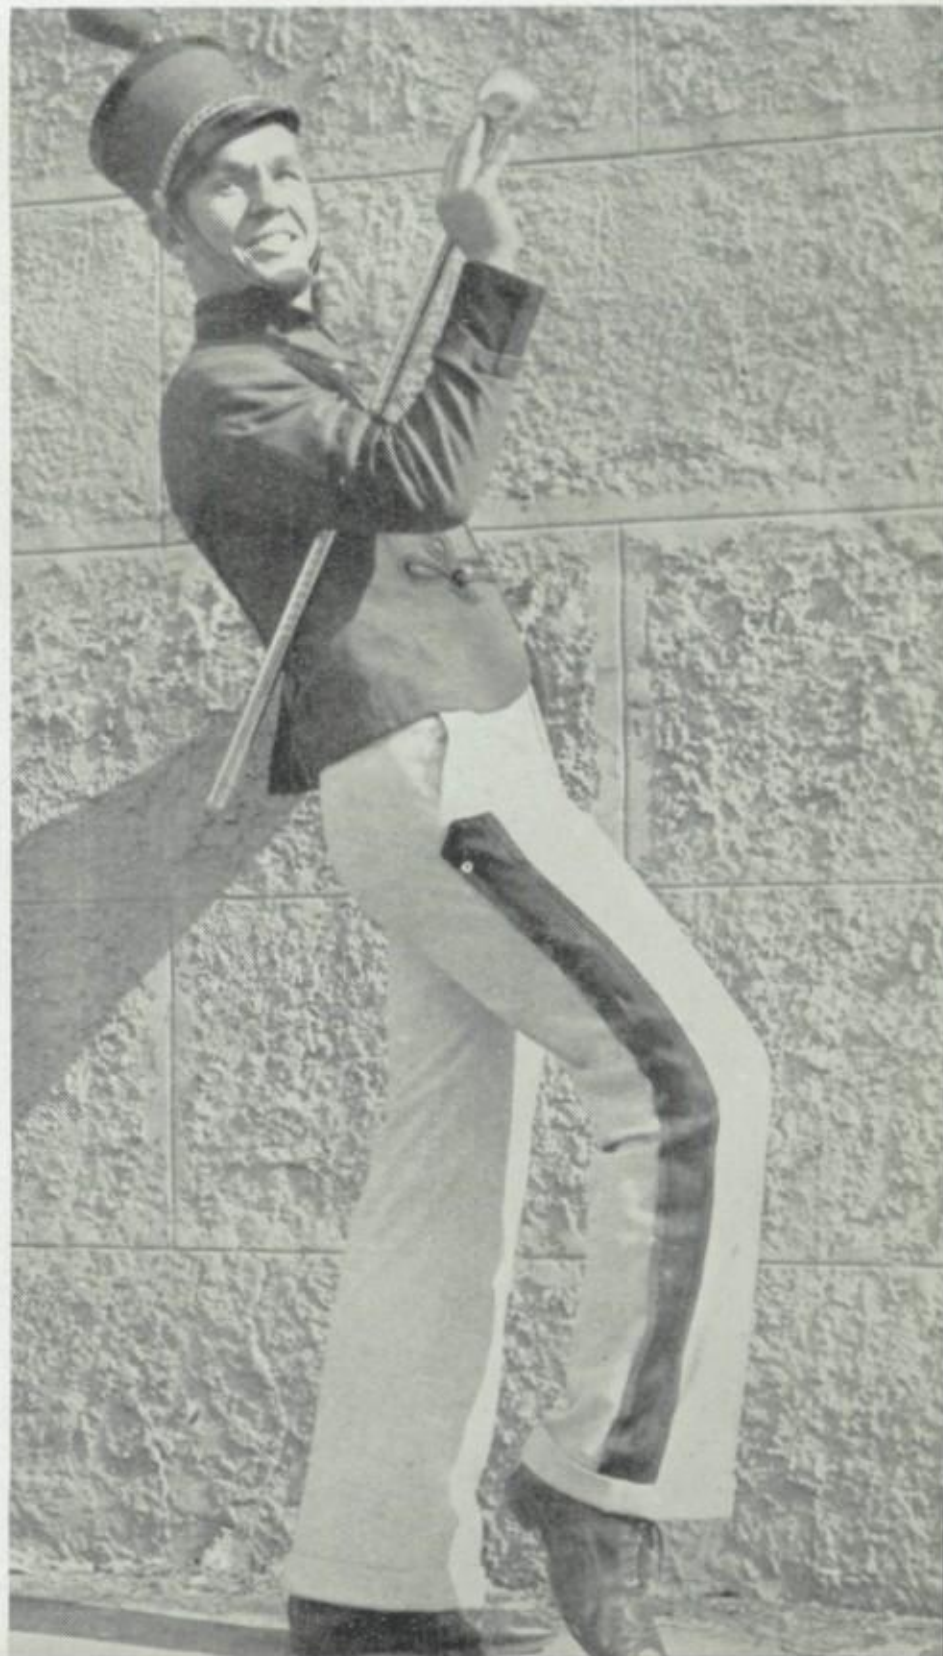

FOOTBALL BAND

- Under the direction of Louis W. Tozier, the Lincoln football band upheld its reputation of being one of the largest and best bands in the city.
- 1938 marks a particularly fortunate year for the organization, since during that period it was blessed with a greater array of talent than it had been its good fortune in previous years. Enthusiasm at all football games and school affairs was heightened by the band's participation.

BATON TOSSER

● Another feature between halves at the football contests is the excellent baton twirling executed by Raymond Myers, who for the past three years has led the band. While the Tiger grid warriors are recuperating from the effects of the first half, Myers thrills the spectators with his clever tactics.

RAYMOND MYERS

Otto Jensen
Otto Jensen, Mr. Pearson, Santo Dimare, John Doyle

TECHNICIANS

● A shout tuned to a whisper or a whisper that sounds like thunder is their job. Radio and sound pictures is the eventual goal of Lincoln's sound technicians. No Assembly or World Hour would be complete without their genius.

FREE RIDES

● Information is heavy. Boys and girls serving in the book-room find that it takes quite a few tons of it to furnish Lincoln's classes with "Byrd at the North Pole" or "Chang on the Yangste." Rest periods offer possibilities for short rides on the ladder which most of them can't resist.

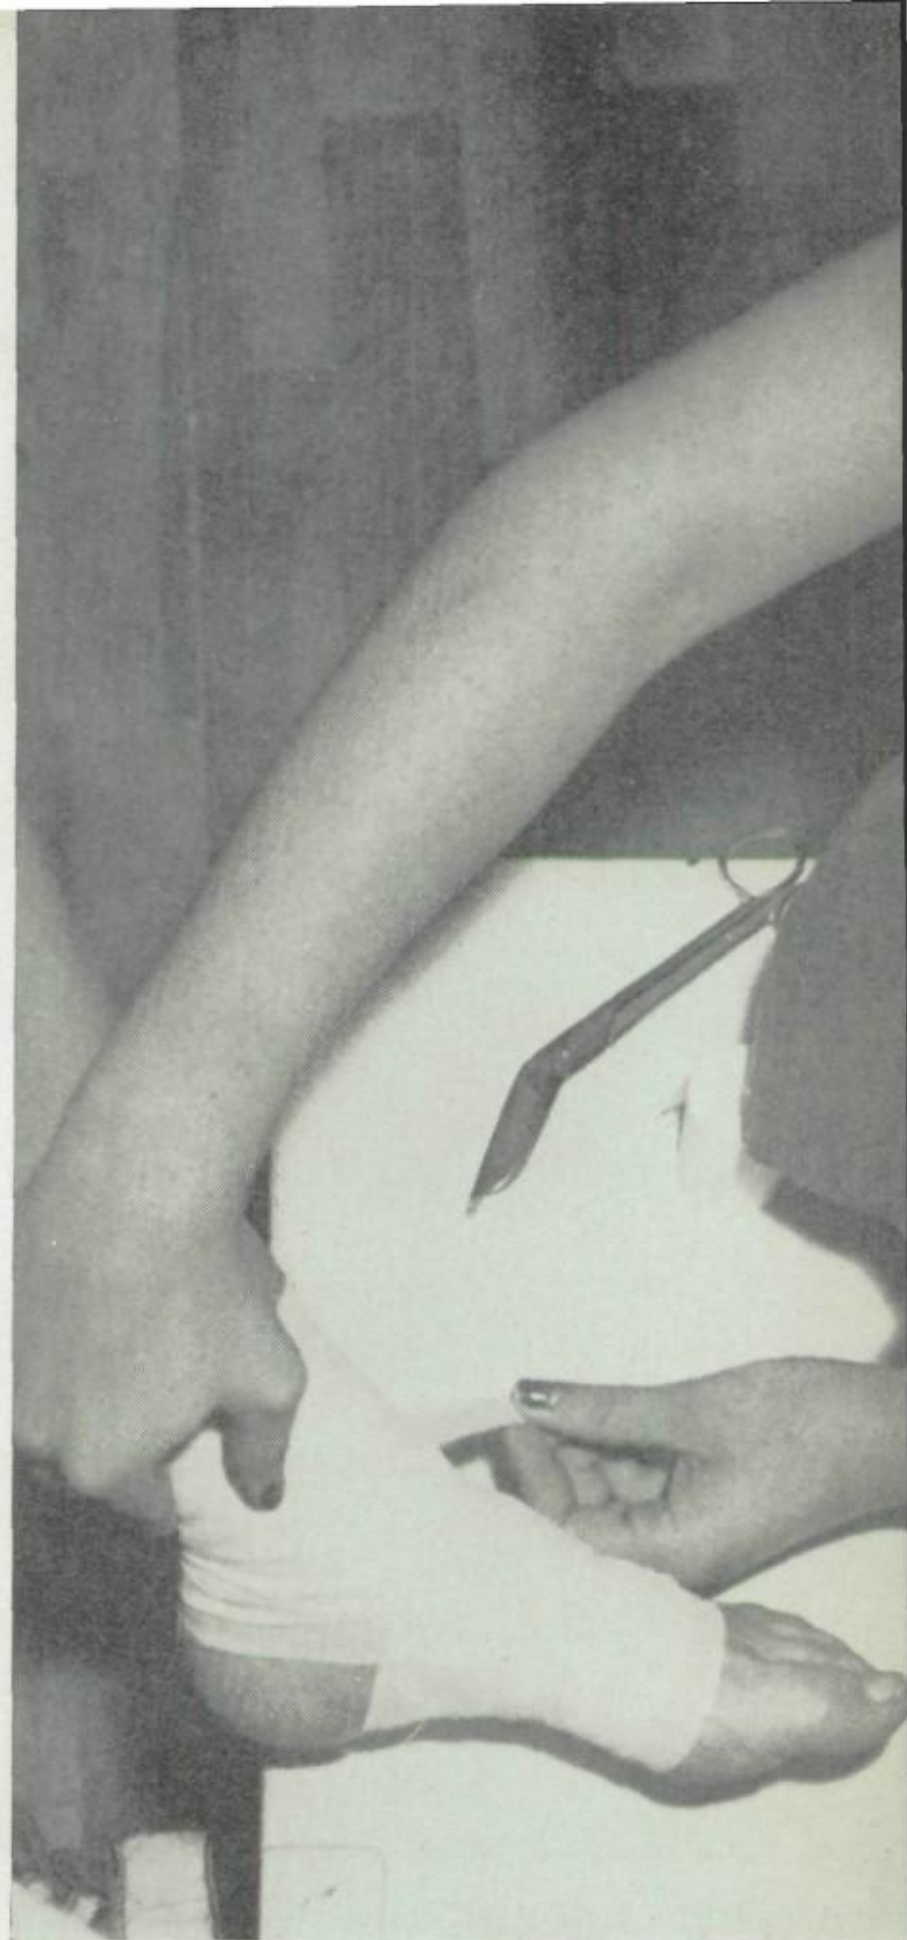

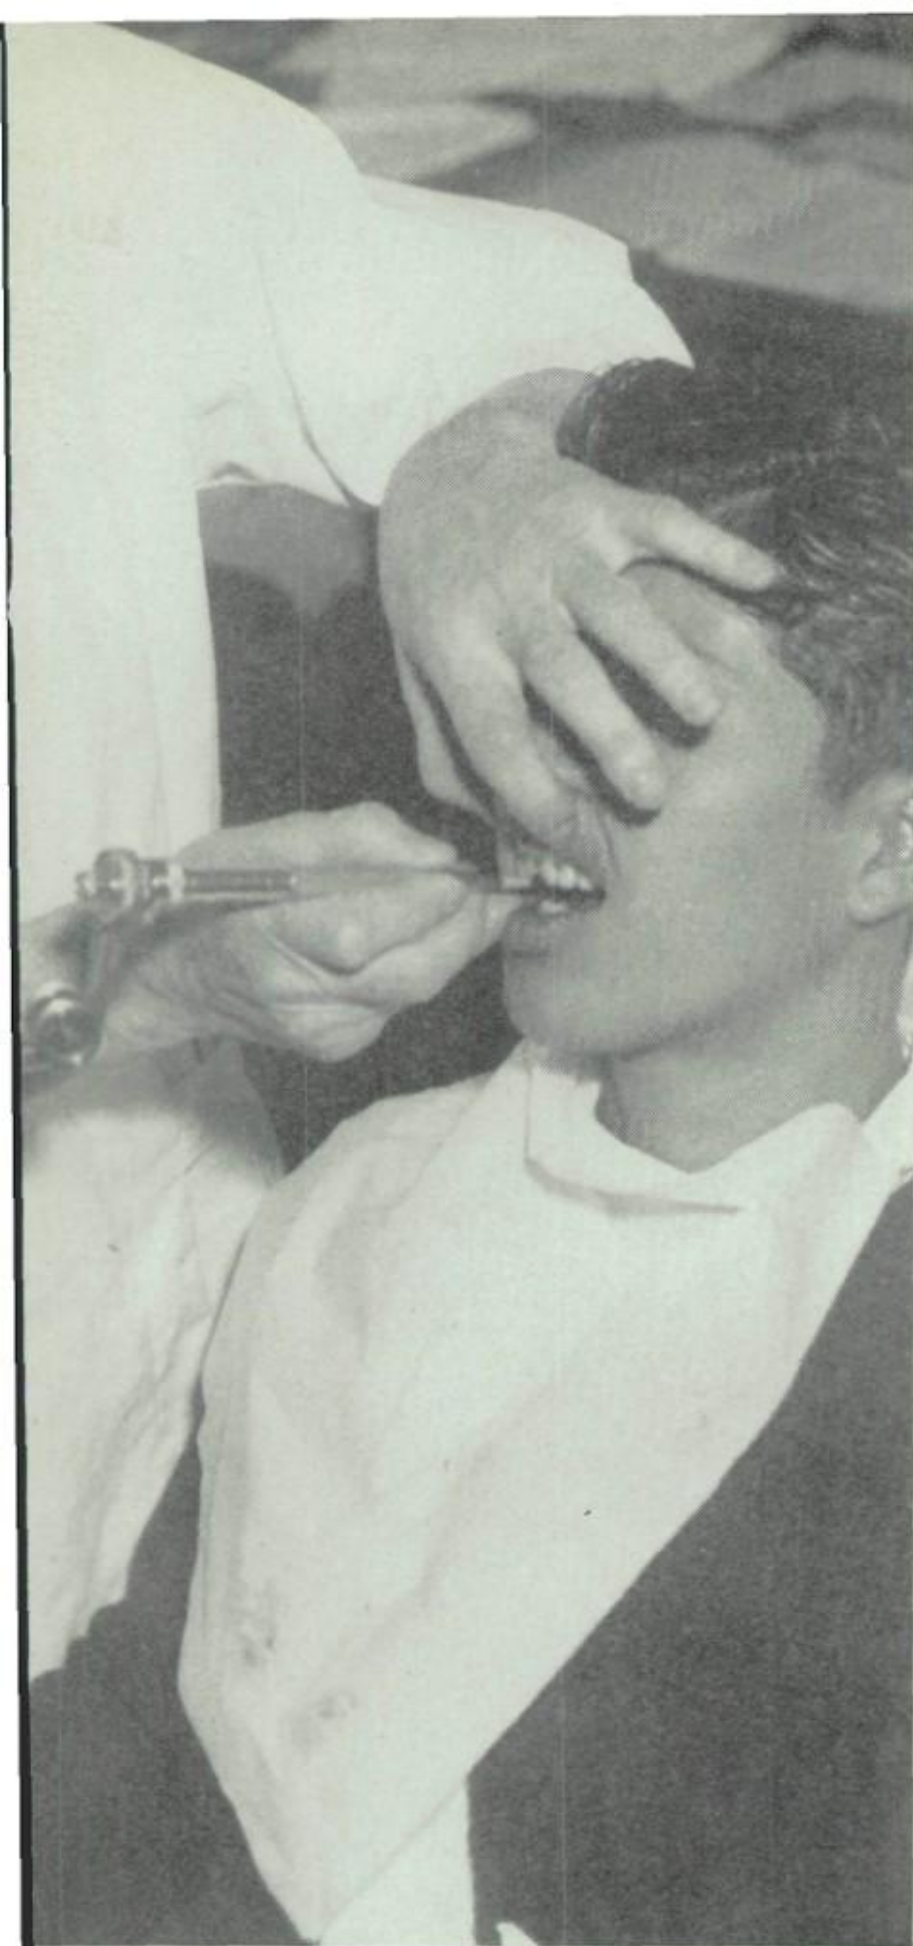

NO CASH NEEDED

● No yells from this newsboy whose passage through the halls is marked by silence.

● Lincoln's "Railsplitters" are delivered from door to door of the classrooms once a week by newsboys who need never to collect a cent. These boys deliver twenty-four hundred papers in an hour . . . and all free. Just another service which Lincoln students render to one another.

ARTHUR LUCKIE

REPAIRS . . . WHILE YOU WAIT

- Every day, first aid treatment for minor injuries is given in the student hospital by Miss Ann McAlmon, school nurse, who has as assistants girls from the different nursing classes.
- Burns, cuts, bruises, sprains, boils, fractures, infections, headaches, colds and sore throats are the most frequently treated.
- The girls working in the office during the day have their regular class work as well as render emergency treatment to minor injuries to students.
- Visiting the dentist this year was the privilege of many of the students of Lincoln. This service is extended by the Parent Teachers Association absolutely free.

MAXINE INGLE
KAZUO FURUTO
GRACE OKURA
FRANK KURAMOTO

BUSY PEOPLE

- Annual subscriptions, towel tickets, class dues, senior sweaters; all of these must be paid into the business office.
- To commercial students majoring in Salesmanship, the business office offers practical experience in bookkeeping, handling money and checking accounts.
- Mr. Royal C. Cole cares for all the financial problems of the school and is in charge of all students receiving training in the student store.

JOSEPHINE BOCCHIARDI

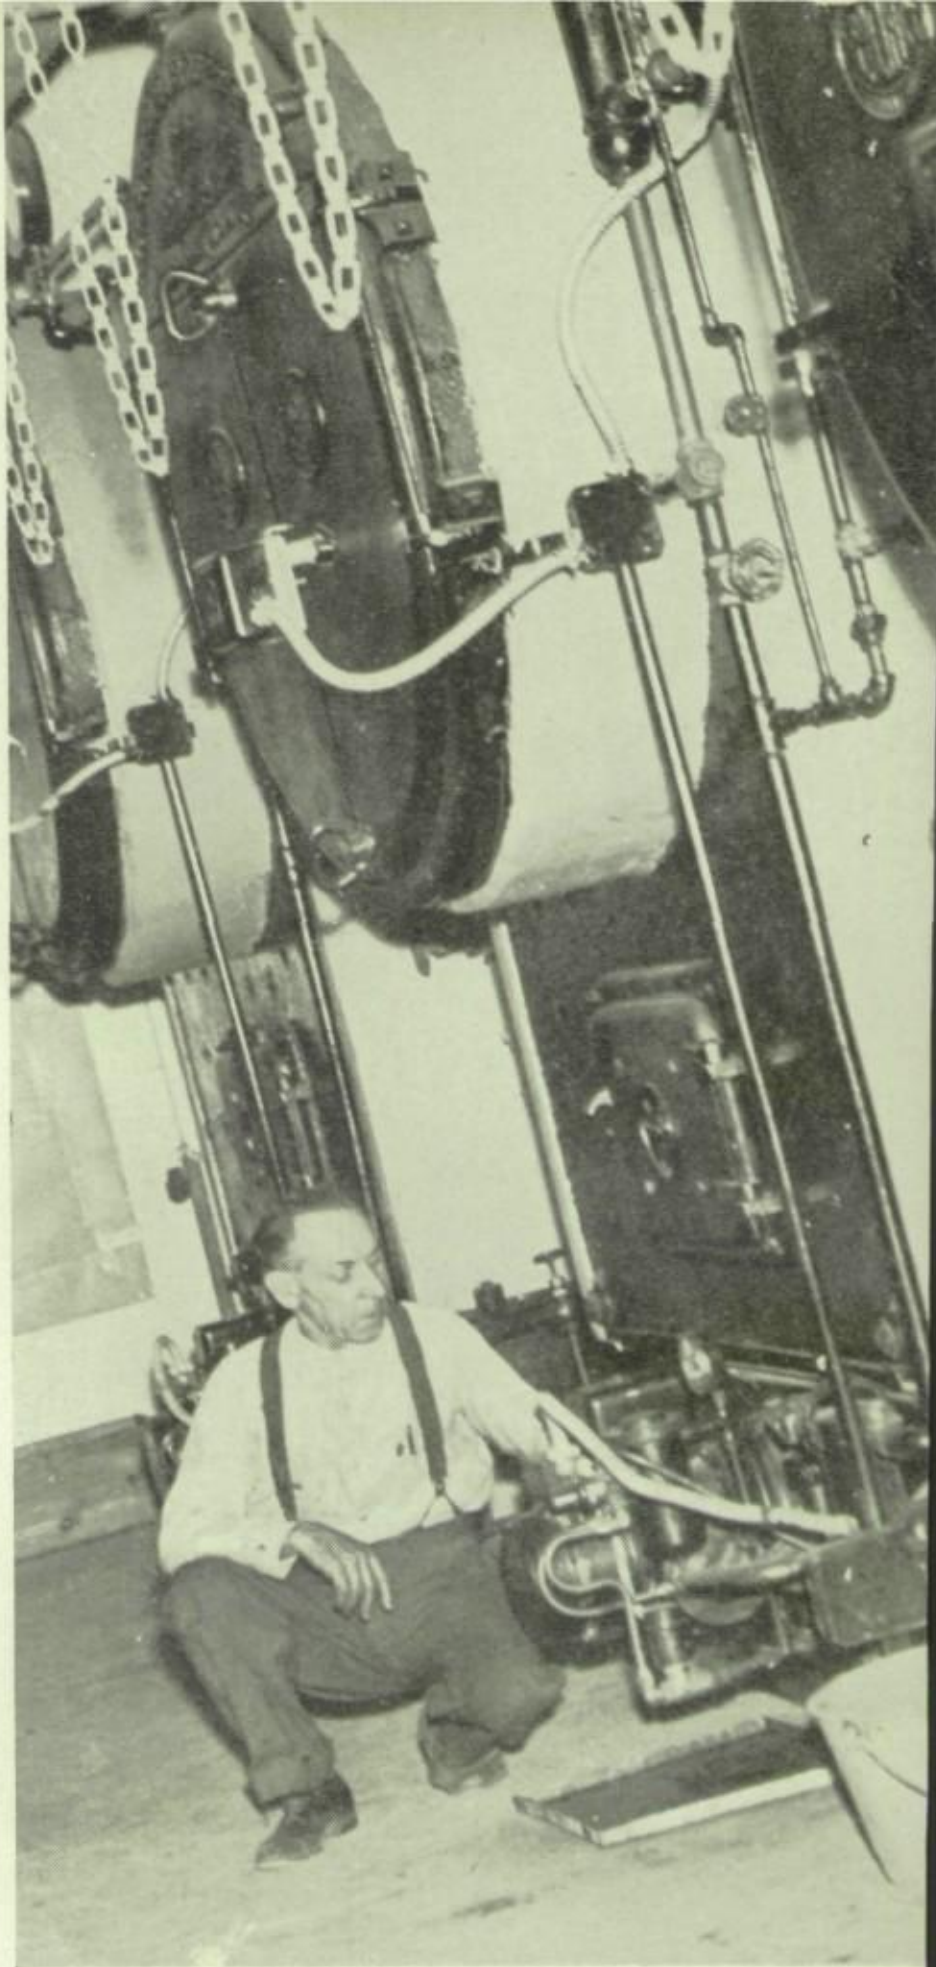

SCHOOL SUPPLIES

- This smiling W'38 Commissioner has just purchased one of the many articles sold at the student store, adjoining the business office.
- Students are assigned certain periods of the day to attend to all business transactions, thereby receiving excellent training in both salesmanship and courtesy.

MR. MOORE

HONEST TOIL

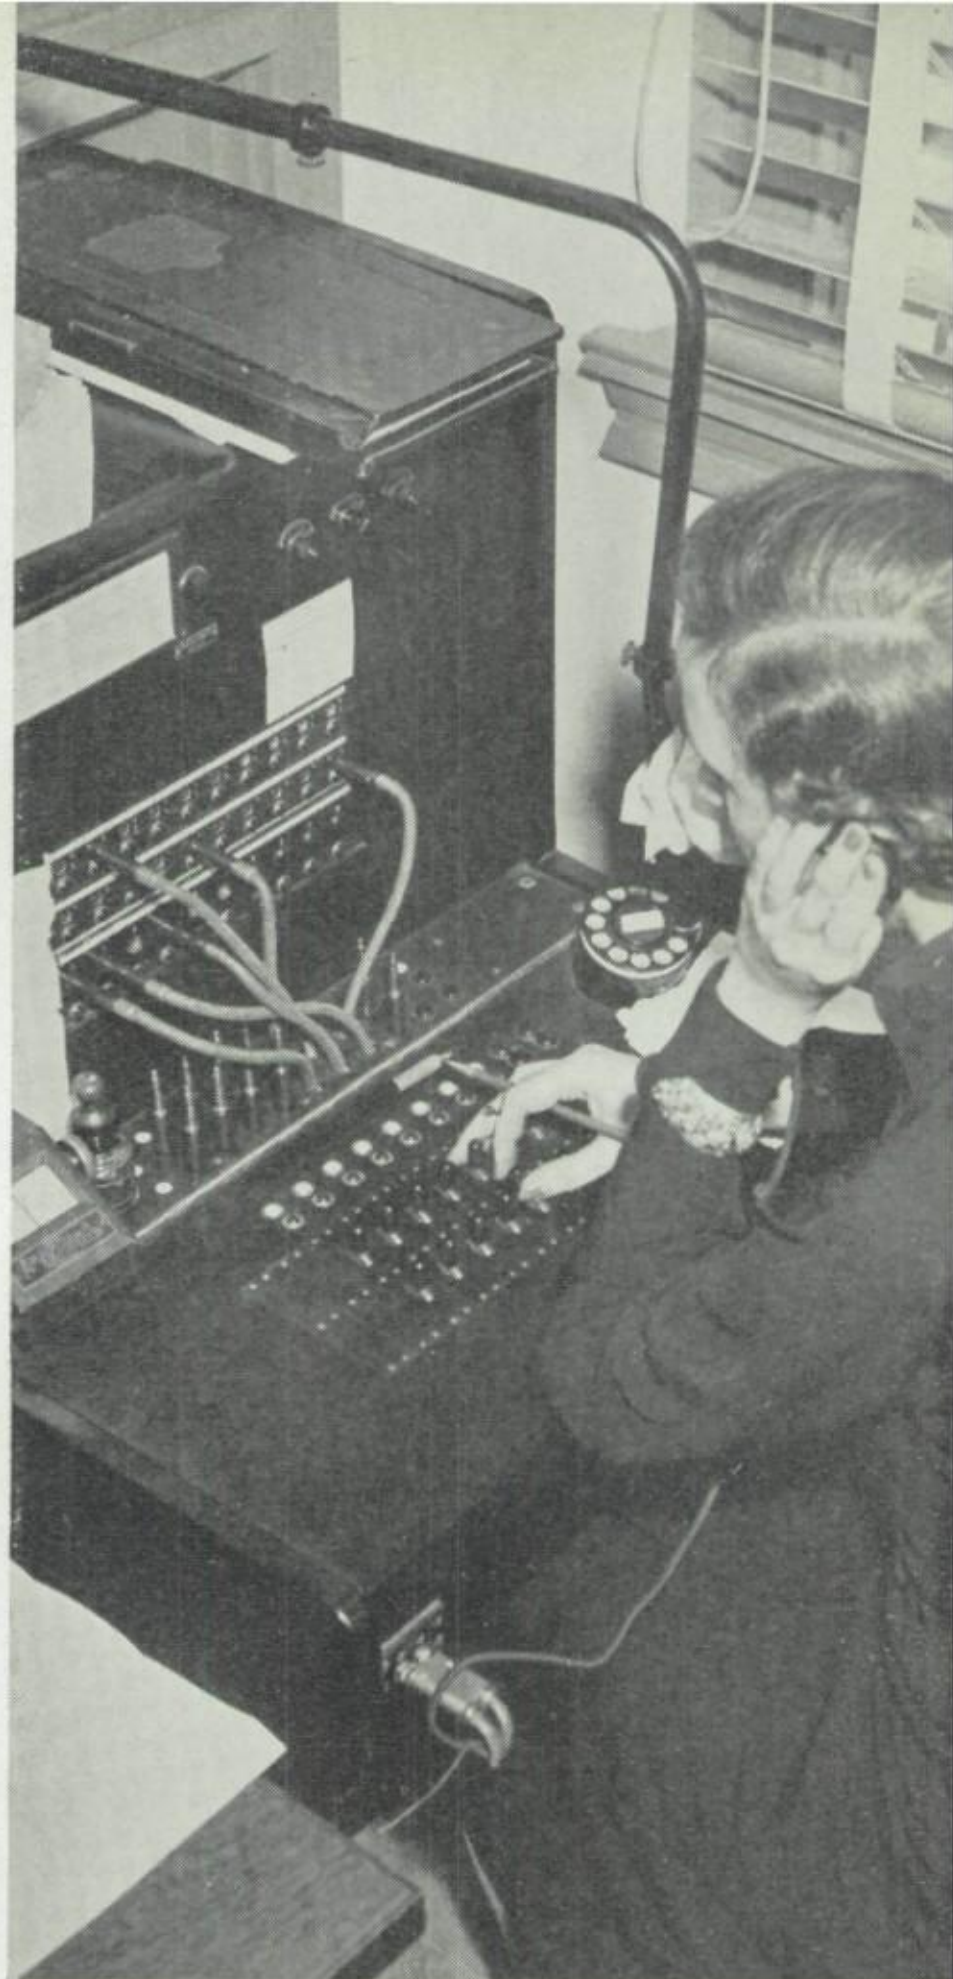

● Performing their duties in keeping the school clean, custodians are examples of the fine citizens of the out-of-school group working for the school. Careful and courteous, students and faculty alike benefit from their cheerful willingness to undertake extra duties.

NEW HEATING FACILITIES

● A new modern equipped and well ventilated boiler room has been installed in the Lincoln High School plant. This will provide for uniform heat throughout all the buildings of the school.

MRS. SERVICE

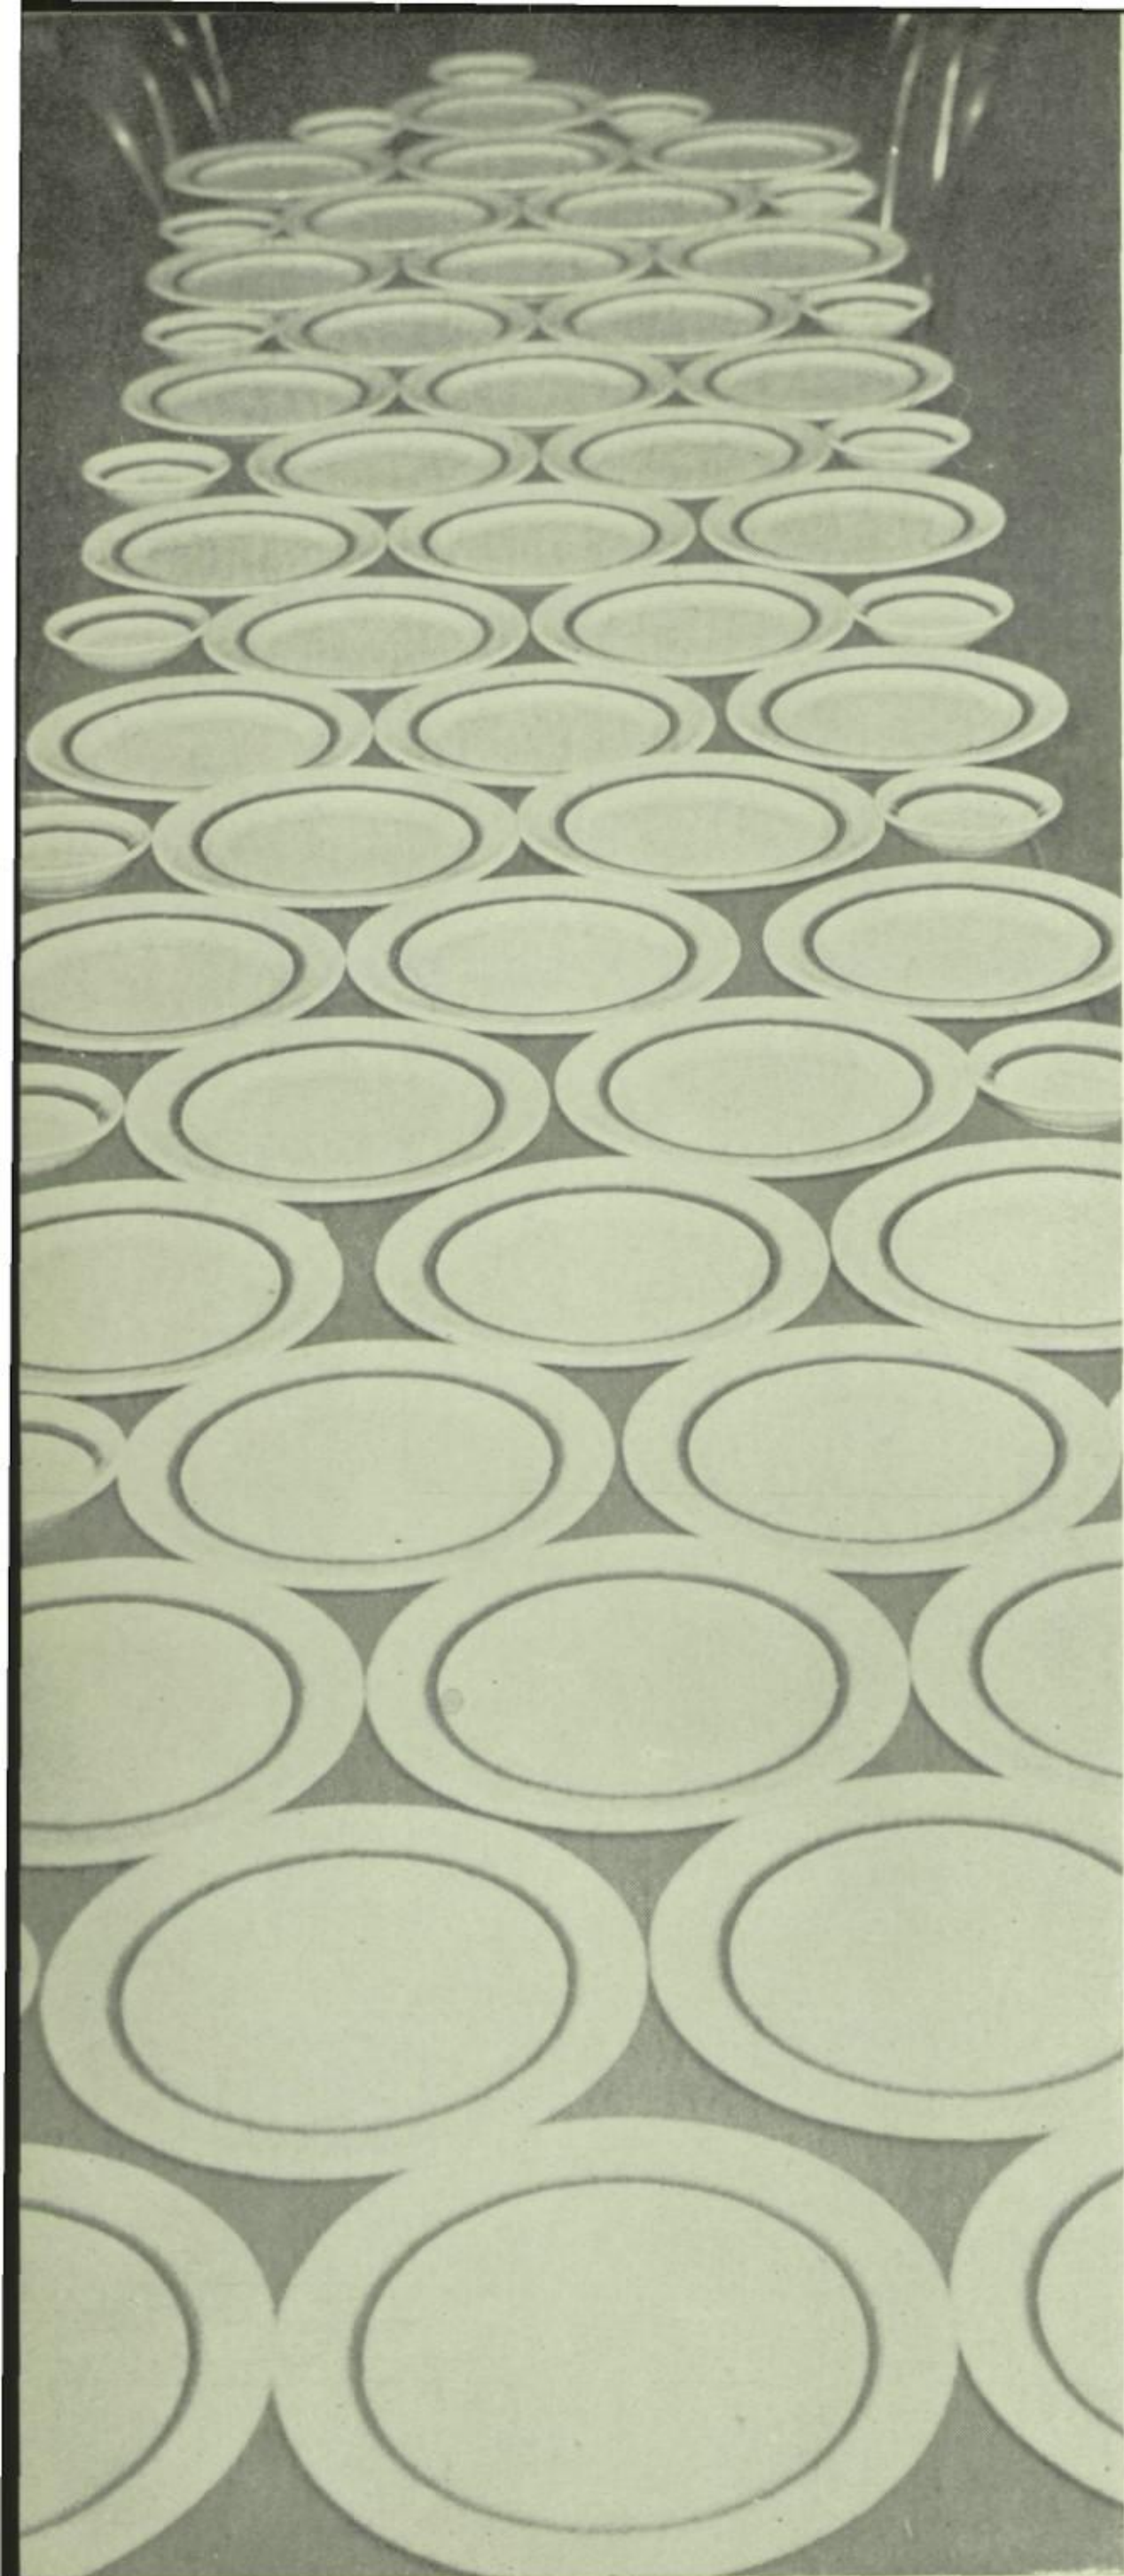

MISS PETERS

MAY I HELP?

● In the counselor's office courses are planned to fit the needs of the individual student. While their task is a difficult one they are always willing to render encouragement and guidance, which later may become vastly profitable. Mrs. Service, Mrs. Levy and Miss Bridge offer their understanding and keen judgement to all student problems.

L. H. S. CALLING

● One of the busiest spots in the Administration building is in the office of the switch-board operator. Ordering food for the cafeteria and contacting parents are only two of the most common types of calls handled by Miss Peters and her staff.

GLISTENING CHINA

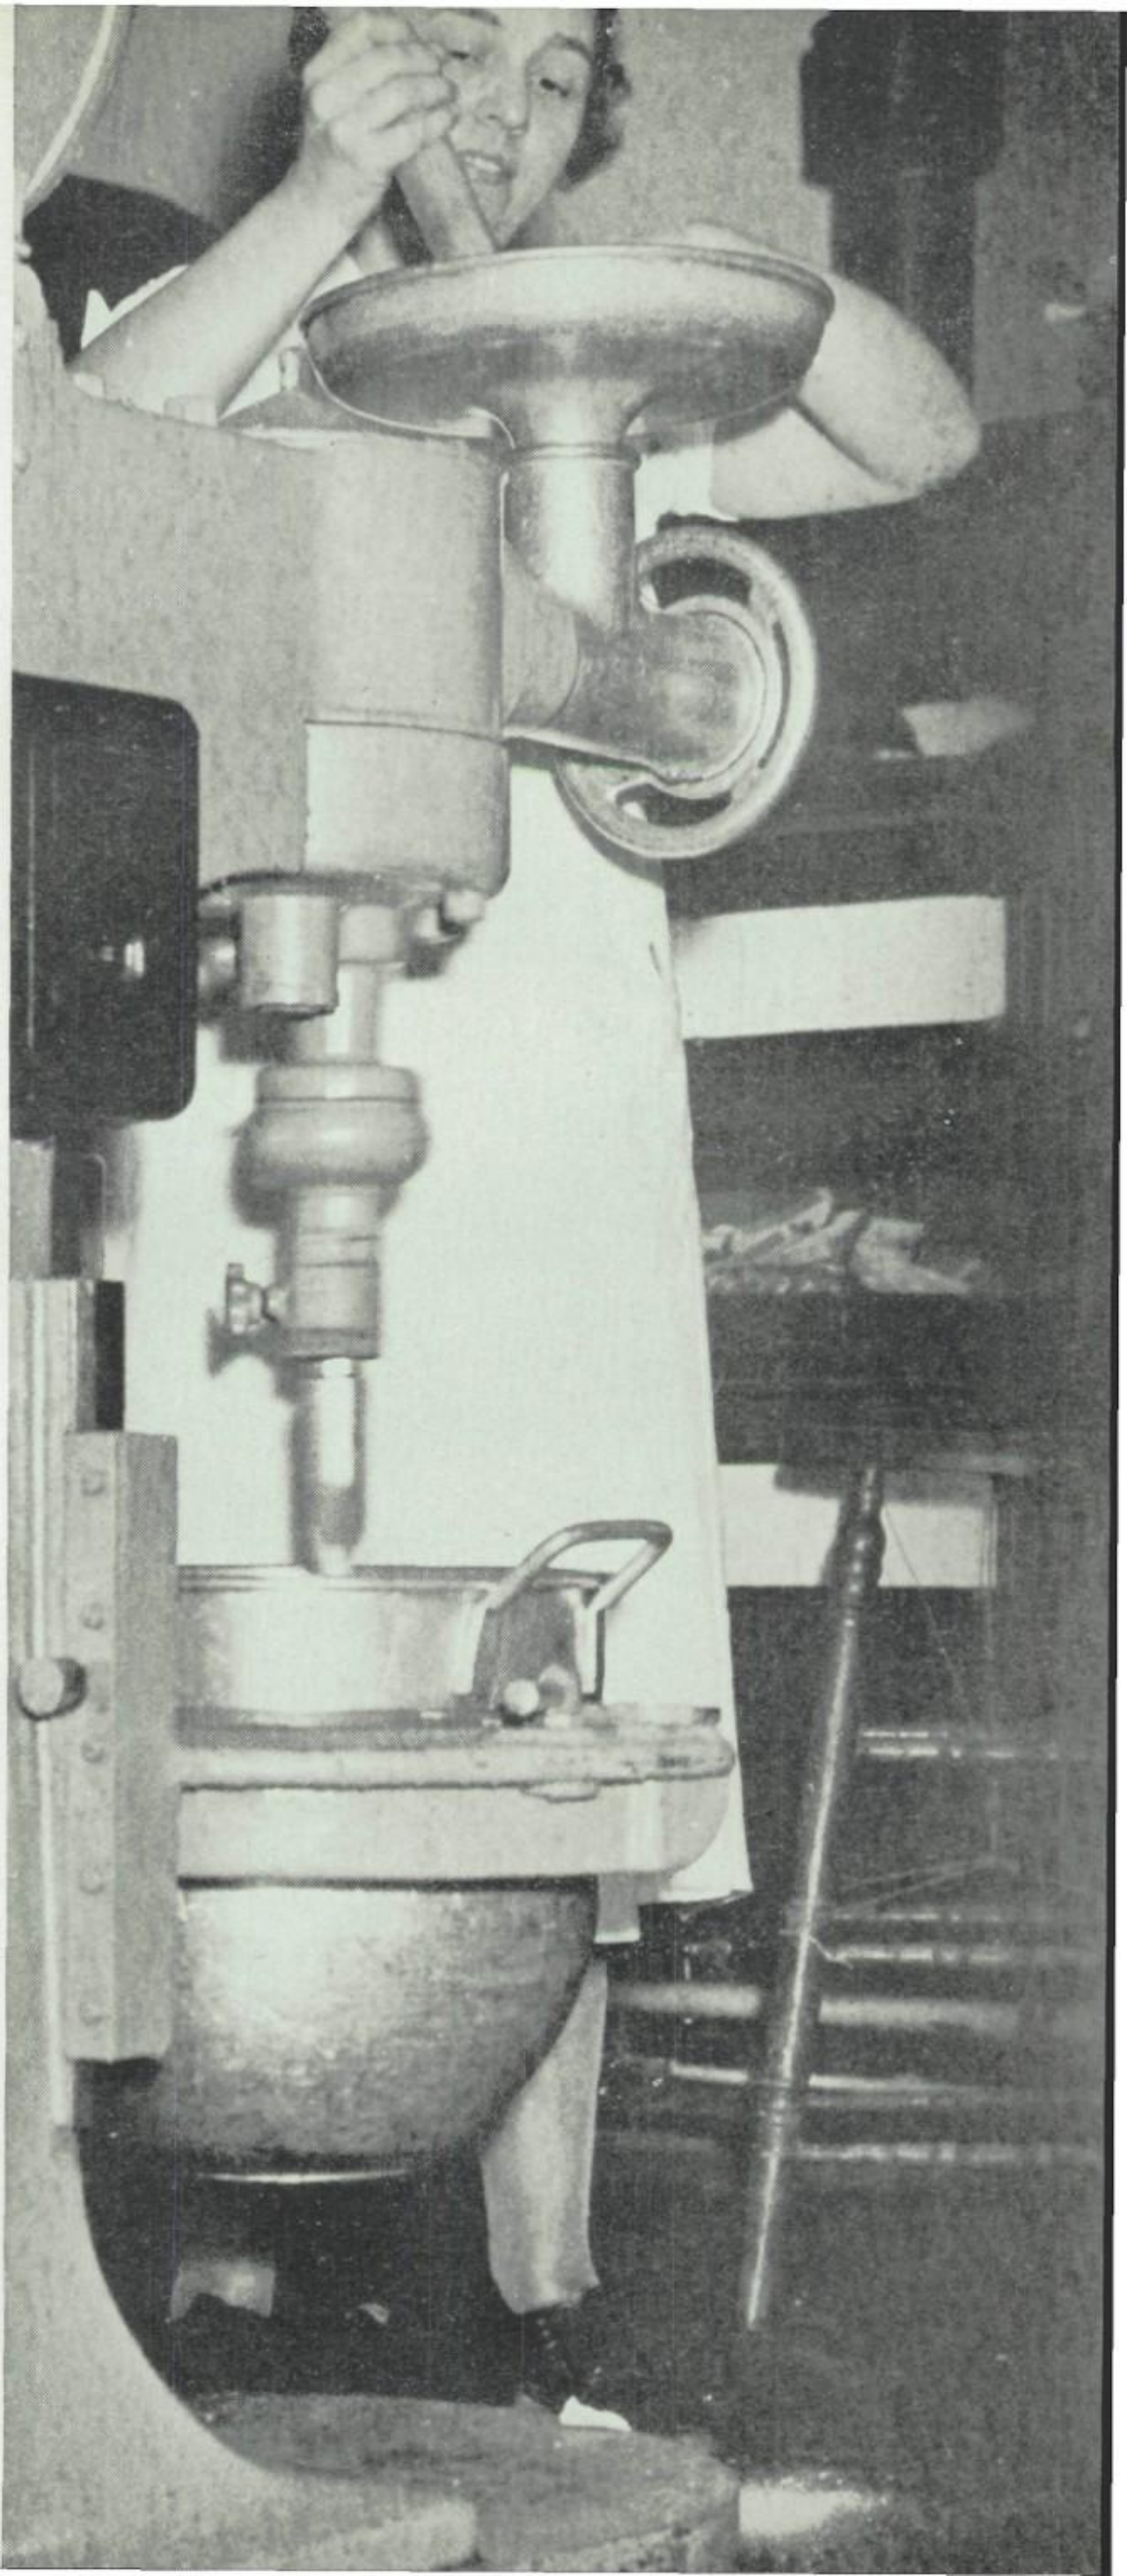

● An amazing total of three thousand four hundred and forty-one dishes are required to serve lunch in the Lincoln cafeteria.

● To be asked to help with the dishes doesn't frighten any of the N. Y. A. students who earn spending money by getting dishes washed, dried and ready for the next meal.

MRS. RUBY LOWE

SPEED

● The kitchens of the Lincoln cafeteria present a study in organization and modern efficiency. Under the direction of Mrs. Thiene food for several hundred students must be prepared, served and cleared away in forty minutes.

W'38 CLASS IN REVIEW

- The Class of Winter '38, one of the smallest classes ever to graduate from Lincoln, has had an enviable record which cannot be related in detail, but can only be sketched briefly on this page.
- Officers selected by the class were: Eugene Gaffney, President; Frank Mays, Boys' Vice-President; Maxine Ingle, Girls' Vice-President; Ruby Stone, Girls' Treasurer; and Donald Shaw, Boys' Treasurer.
- They scored a dramatic hit when they substituted a variety show, "The Senior A Review," for the usual three-act play. All members of the class participated.
- A very impressive Prom, held on the evening of January 28, brought to a climax many delightful and memorable parties. This event marked the opening of the new social hall dedicated to Dr. Ethel Percy Andrus.

S'38 EPHEBIANS

● Chosen by the faculty and their fellow classmates on the basis of scholarship, character, and leadership, the students who gained membership in the Ephebian society for the Class of S'38 were as follows: Eugene Chenault, Student Dramatic Director; Louis Emme, R. O. T. C. Major; Thomas Finlay, President of the class; Helen Bennett, Student Body Secretary; and Suzanne Benner and Mary Prince, both outstanding students.

● These students are now charged with the duty of upholding the fine traditions of their school and community.

S'38 CLASS IN REVIEW

- When this class was commonly known as the mighty Senior B's, they shared the extreme honor with the winter seniors of being the first class to hold meetings in the new auditorium.
- Led by President Thomas Finlay for two successful terms, the class experienced an enjoyable senior year. Other officers were: Carlos Guerrero, Boys' Vice-President; Frances Romano, Girls' Vice-President; Mary Prince, Secretary; and George Guzman and Daisy De La Garde, Boys' and Girls' Treasurers respectively.
- One of the affairs long to be remembered was the class play "Howdy Stranger," given early in the spring, in which the majority of the seniors participated.
- The prom was held on June 17 and on the following week, commencement outdoors climaxed the seniors' four years' stay at Lincoln.

*I hope that I may see you again
as I have enjoyed being in class with you.

1938 LINCOLNIAN STAFF

● In the 1938 Edition of the Lincolnian, the editor and his staff have attempted to present their conception of student life. Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Elliott, who's pleasure it was of serving as advisor for the first time, the staff worked ceaselessly for the one objective: that of presenting real student life at Lincoln.

● Editor-in-Chief was Albert Guerrero who deserves the credit for the publication of this book. His assistant was Carlos Guerrero. The remainder of the staff consisted of Bob Moore, Phil Diez, and Gilbert Carrasco, Sport Editors; and Zola Terry, Caroline Rios, and Allan Lidyoff who, along with other members of the staff spent many hours mounting pictures.

● The business staff was headed by Frank Kuramoto who had under his direction Angelina Durant and Ralph Knowles. Messengers were Robert Cano and Ralph Herold.

1938 RAILSPLITTER STAFF

● Never before has The Railsplitter, the school weekly enjoyed the success it has had, as during the two successive terms that William Brown has served as its Editor. During that time Mr. Bard has been serving not only as printing instructor but also has had the journalism classes. Much of the credit is due to Mr. Bard and Mr. Brown for breaking in a new staff of members who had little experience in this field but who were willing to work. Proof of the capability of the editor lies in the fact that following his first successful term, he won first prize in a national essay contest on "The Future of Color in Printing." This will enable him to continue his journalistic work at the Carnegie Institute of Technology after his graduation from Lincoln.

● Another student to bring honor to Lincoln was Margaret Salskov, Social Living Editor of the weekly who was awarded the annual four-year scholarship to the School of Journalism of the University of Southern California. Credit must also be given to the advertising managers Charles Calleros and Charles Marrone who lifted the paper from debt, thereby affording Lincoln students additional pages.

PEN AND BRUSH

● The purpose of the club is chiefly to give the members an opportunity to express themselves in creative writing. Meetings are held monthly and Miss Alice Green sponsors the organization. The following students are members: Dorothy Birdsong, Mary Prince, Taisuke Kitayama, William Brown, James Minnock, Donald Moore, Harry Matsunaka, Rudolph Acosta, Lura Werner, Ruby Minson, Frank Colo, Rex Tillman, Dorothy Olsson, and Phil Diez.

MINERVA KEEPS YOUNG

- Students are shown examining Minerva, ancient goddess of wisdom after her cleaning up for the new school.
- The Latin Club, being organized to promote the Latin language and customs, is composed of students who have had at least one semester of Latin.
- Mrs. Sylvia Ford, sponsor of the club commonly known as the S.P.Q.R., takes an active interest in the members and the work sponsored by the club. Members of the faculty who have given very interesting talks at the meetings have included Dr. Ethel Percy Andrus and Mrs. Service.

FEEDING THE PRESS

● Quality and Quantity is the theme of the Lincoln print shop. Real physical labor and plenty of brains are requirements students must meet in order to accomplish the rush jobs this print shop handles.

PEEKING

● Its what you can't see that interests the classes with the microscopes. They find new worlds and get as big a thrill as the first man who ever used one when they see their first amoeba wiggle across a slide.

CLIFFORD NA VEAUX

LIFE DRAWING

● Life drawing is the greatest test of a student's talent and is a vital need in figure or portrait painting, illustration or commercial art of any description.

JENNIE GONZALES

ARTS AND CRAFTS

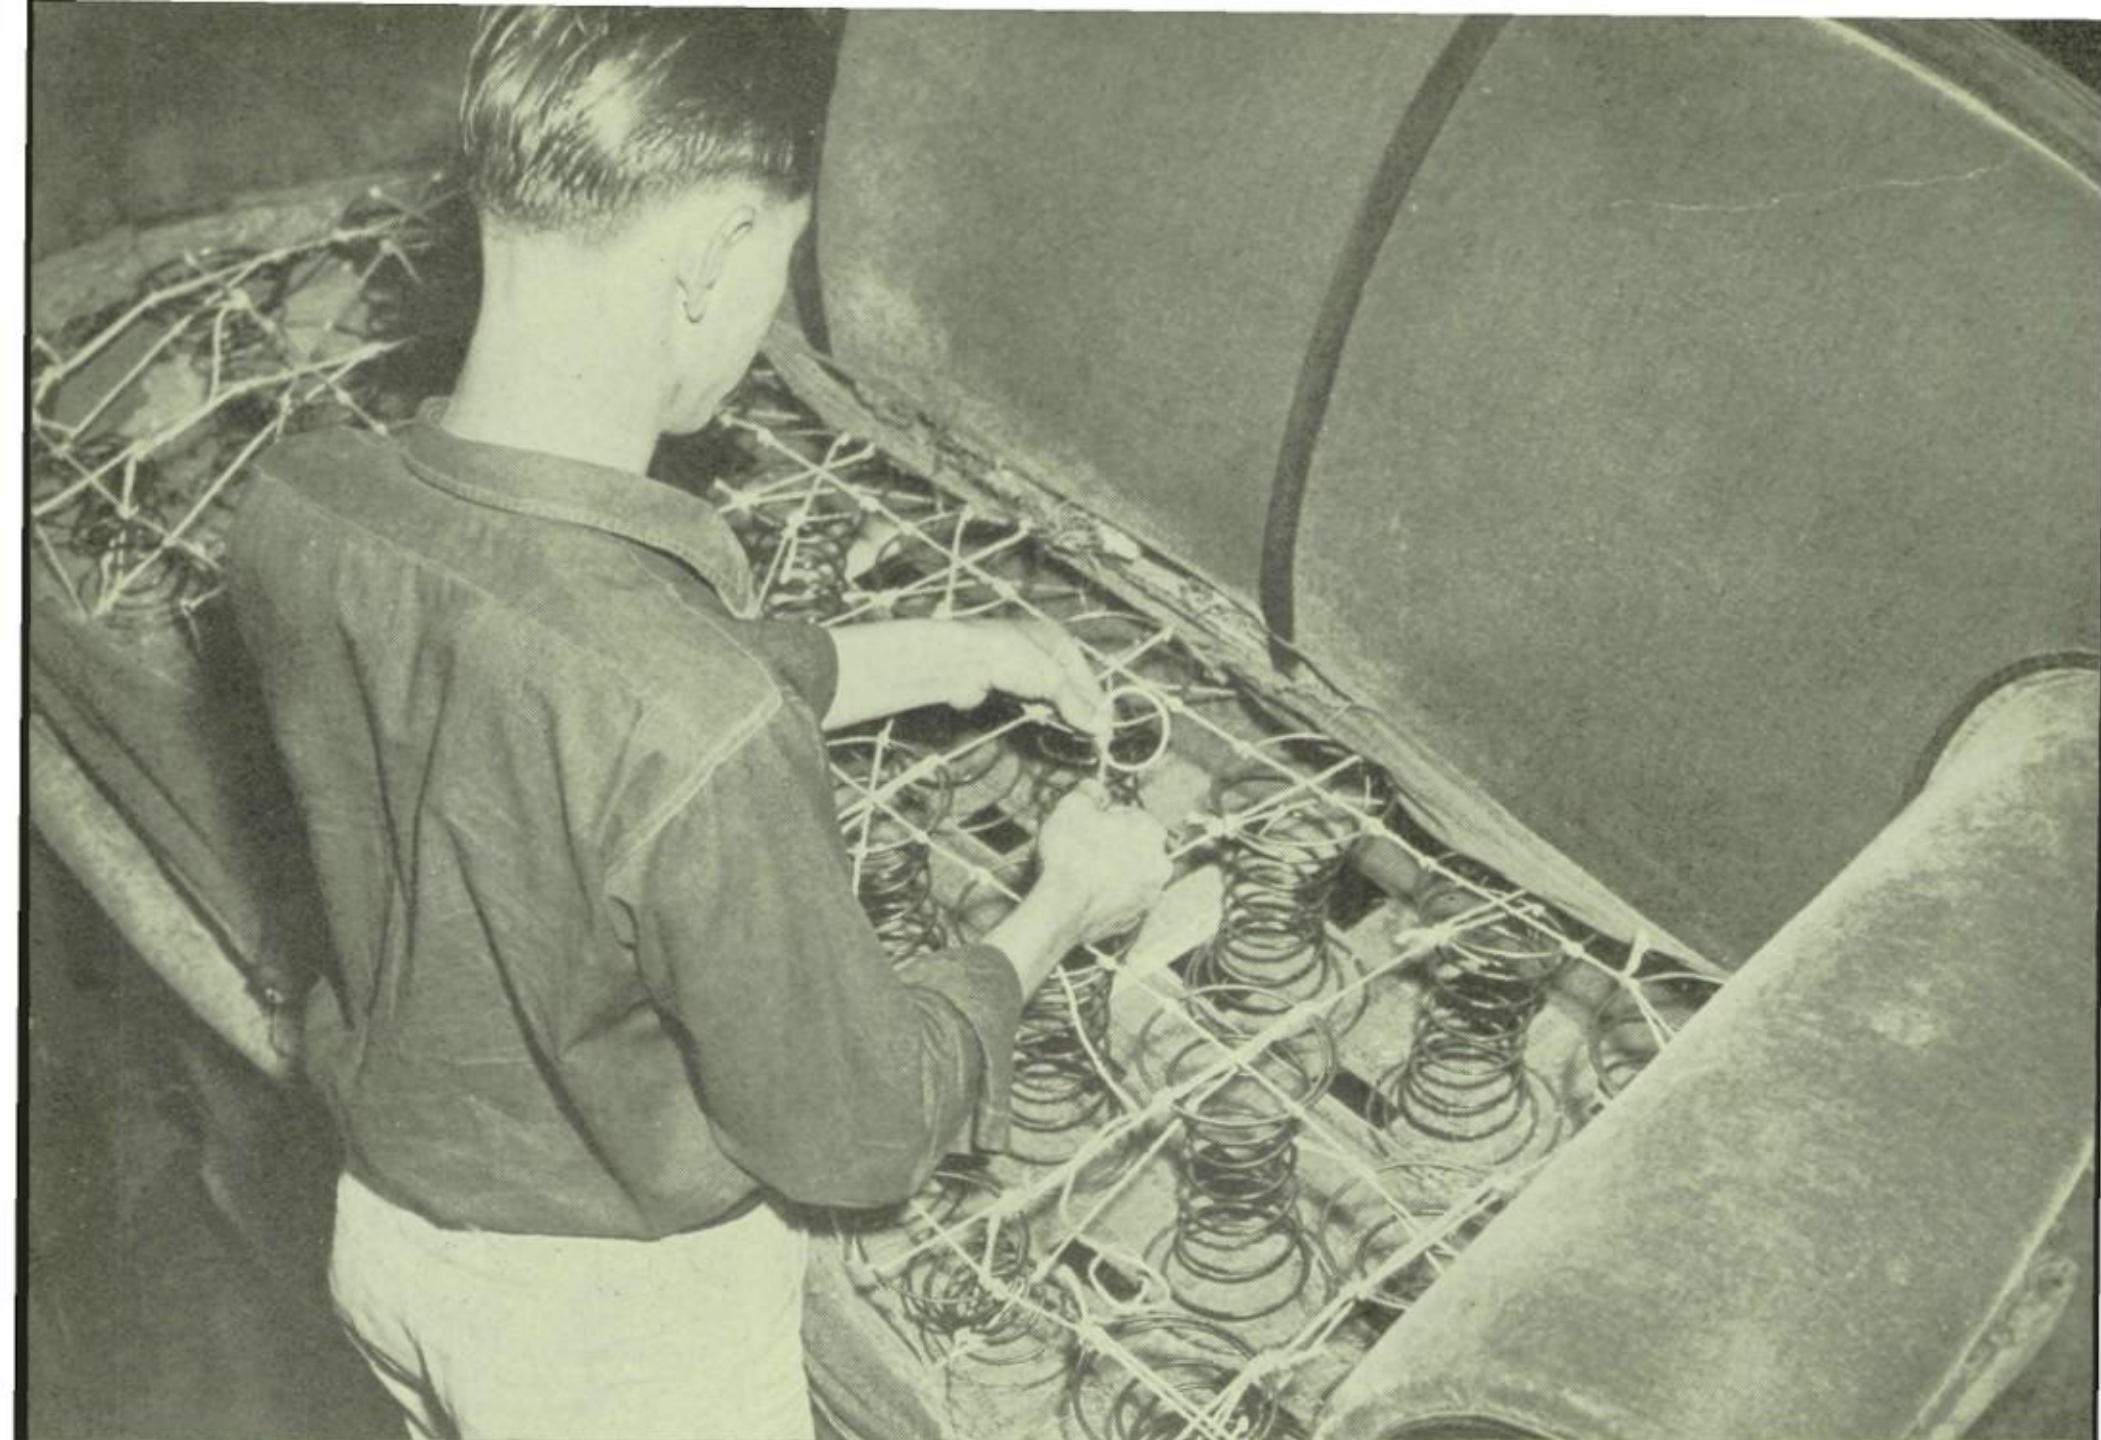

● Because arts and crafts are assuming an important place in the school program, students are learning to respect the unchanging principles of craftsmanship and are finding a real joy in articles they make.

EDWARD LA MOTTE

METICULOUS

- Drafting is a creative field combining both the imaginative and the practical. Those who have a leaning towards both artistic and the scientific find this an absorbing course of study.
- The main objective of the course in drafting is to train students to become architects, engineers, contractors, and builders.

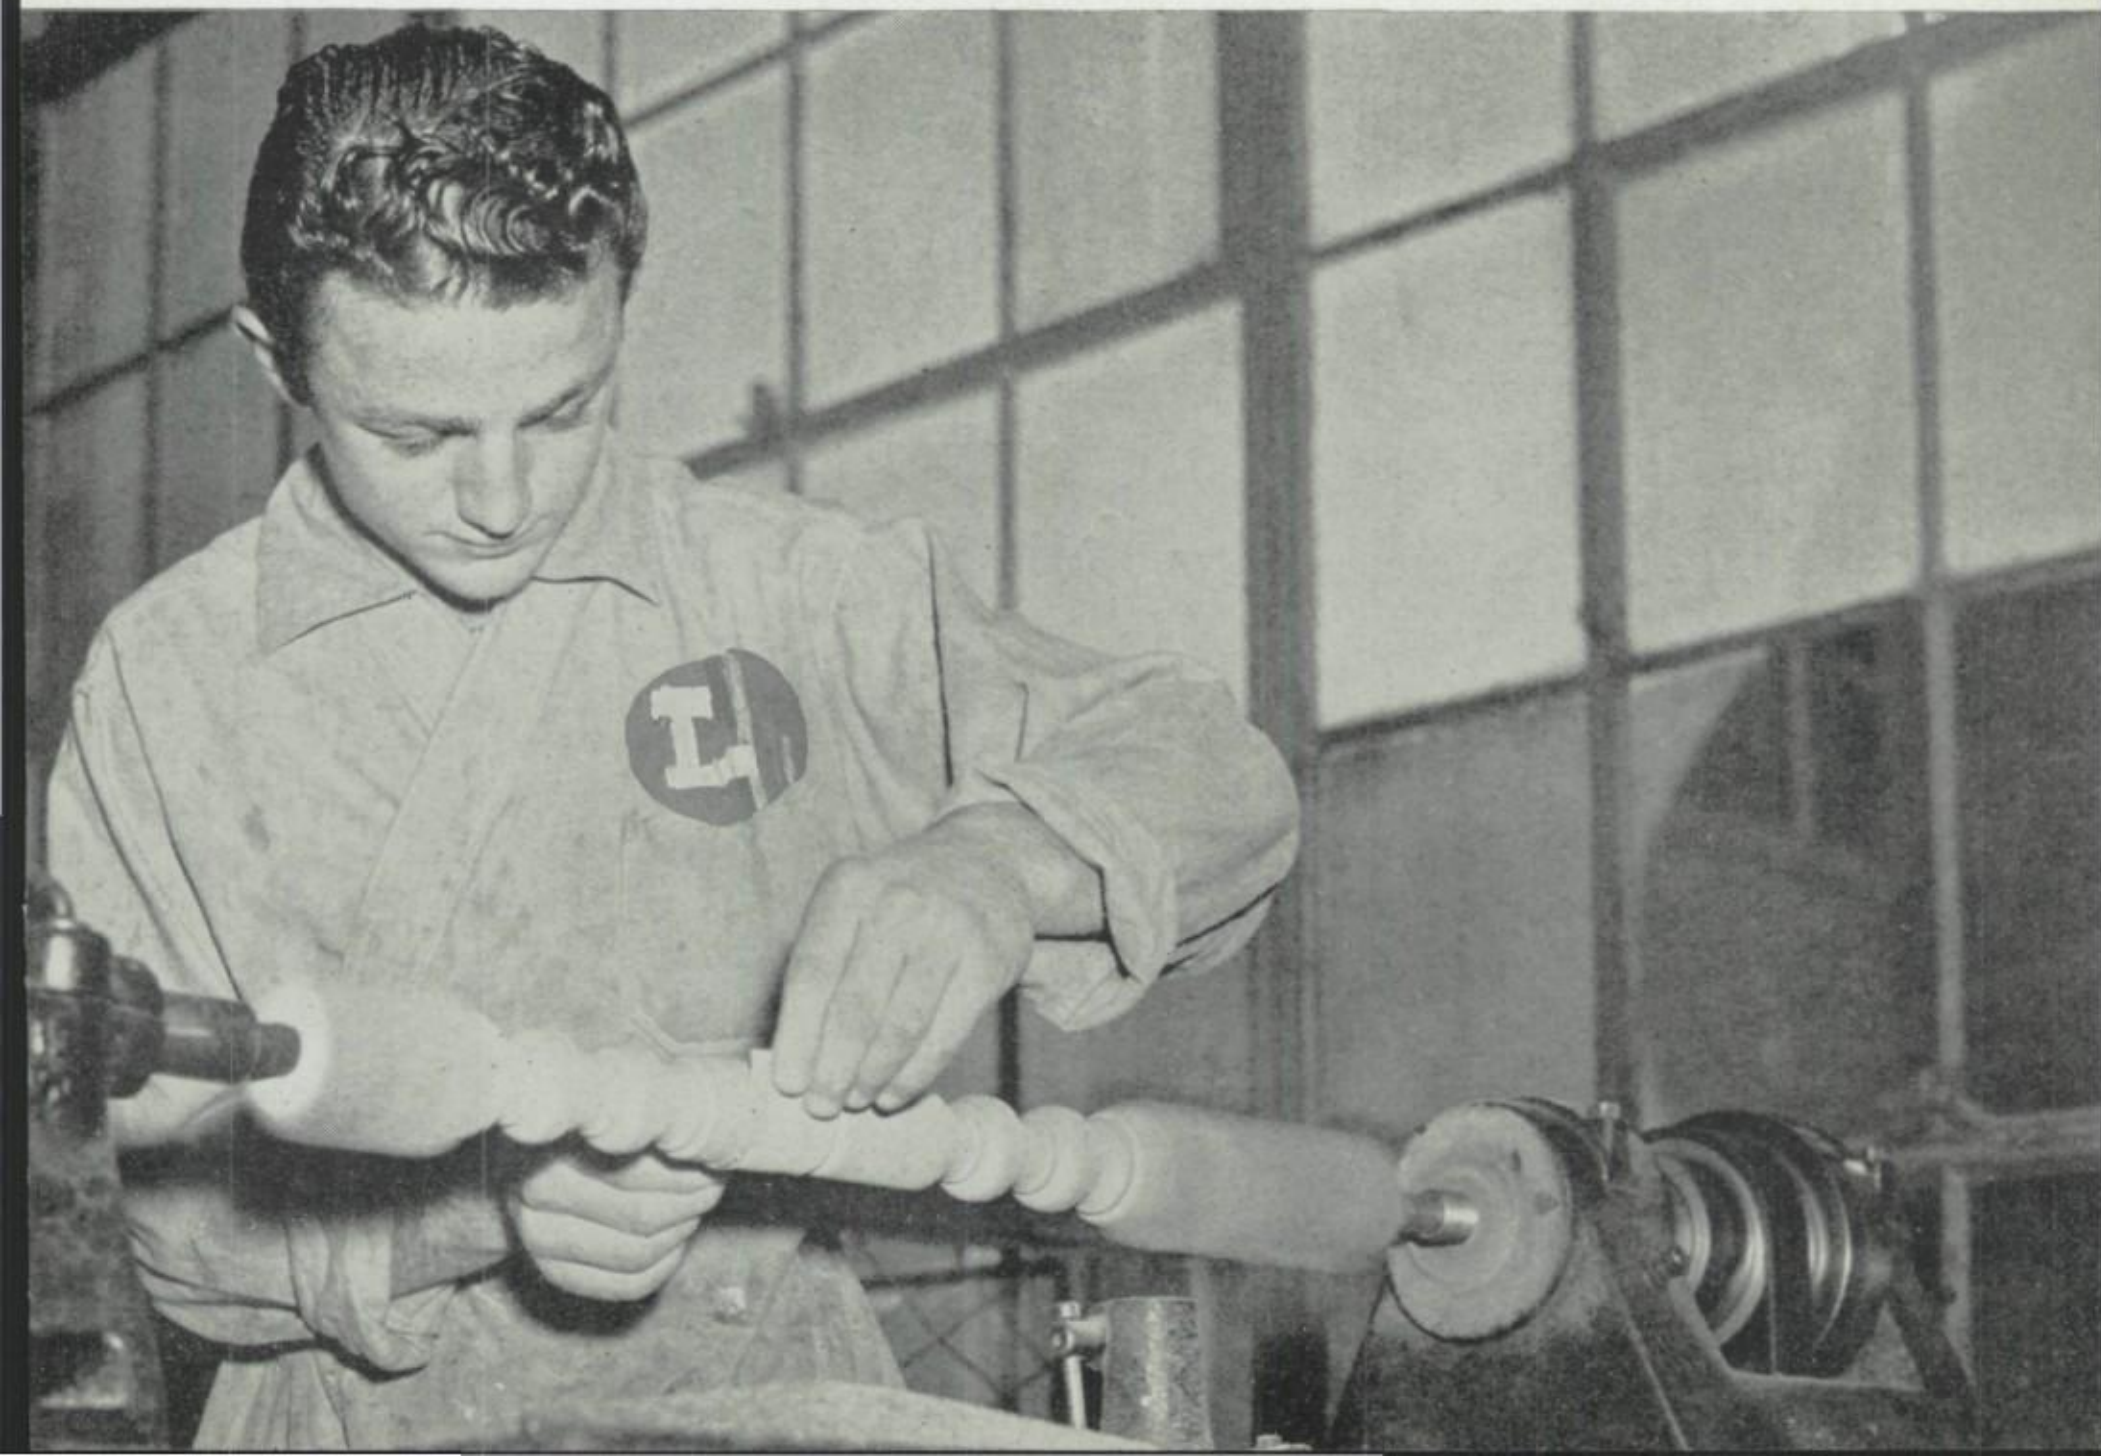

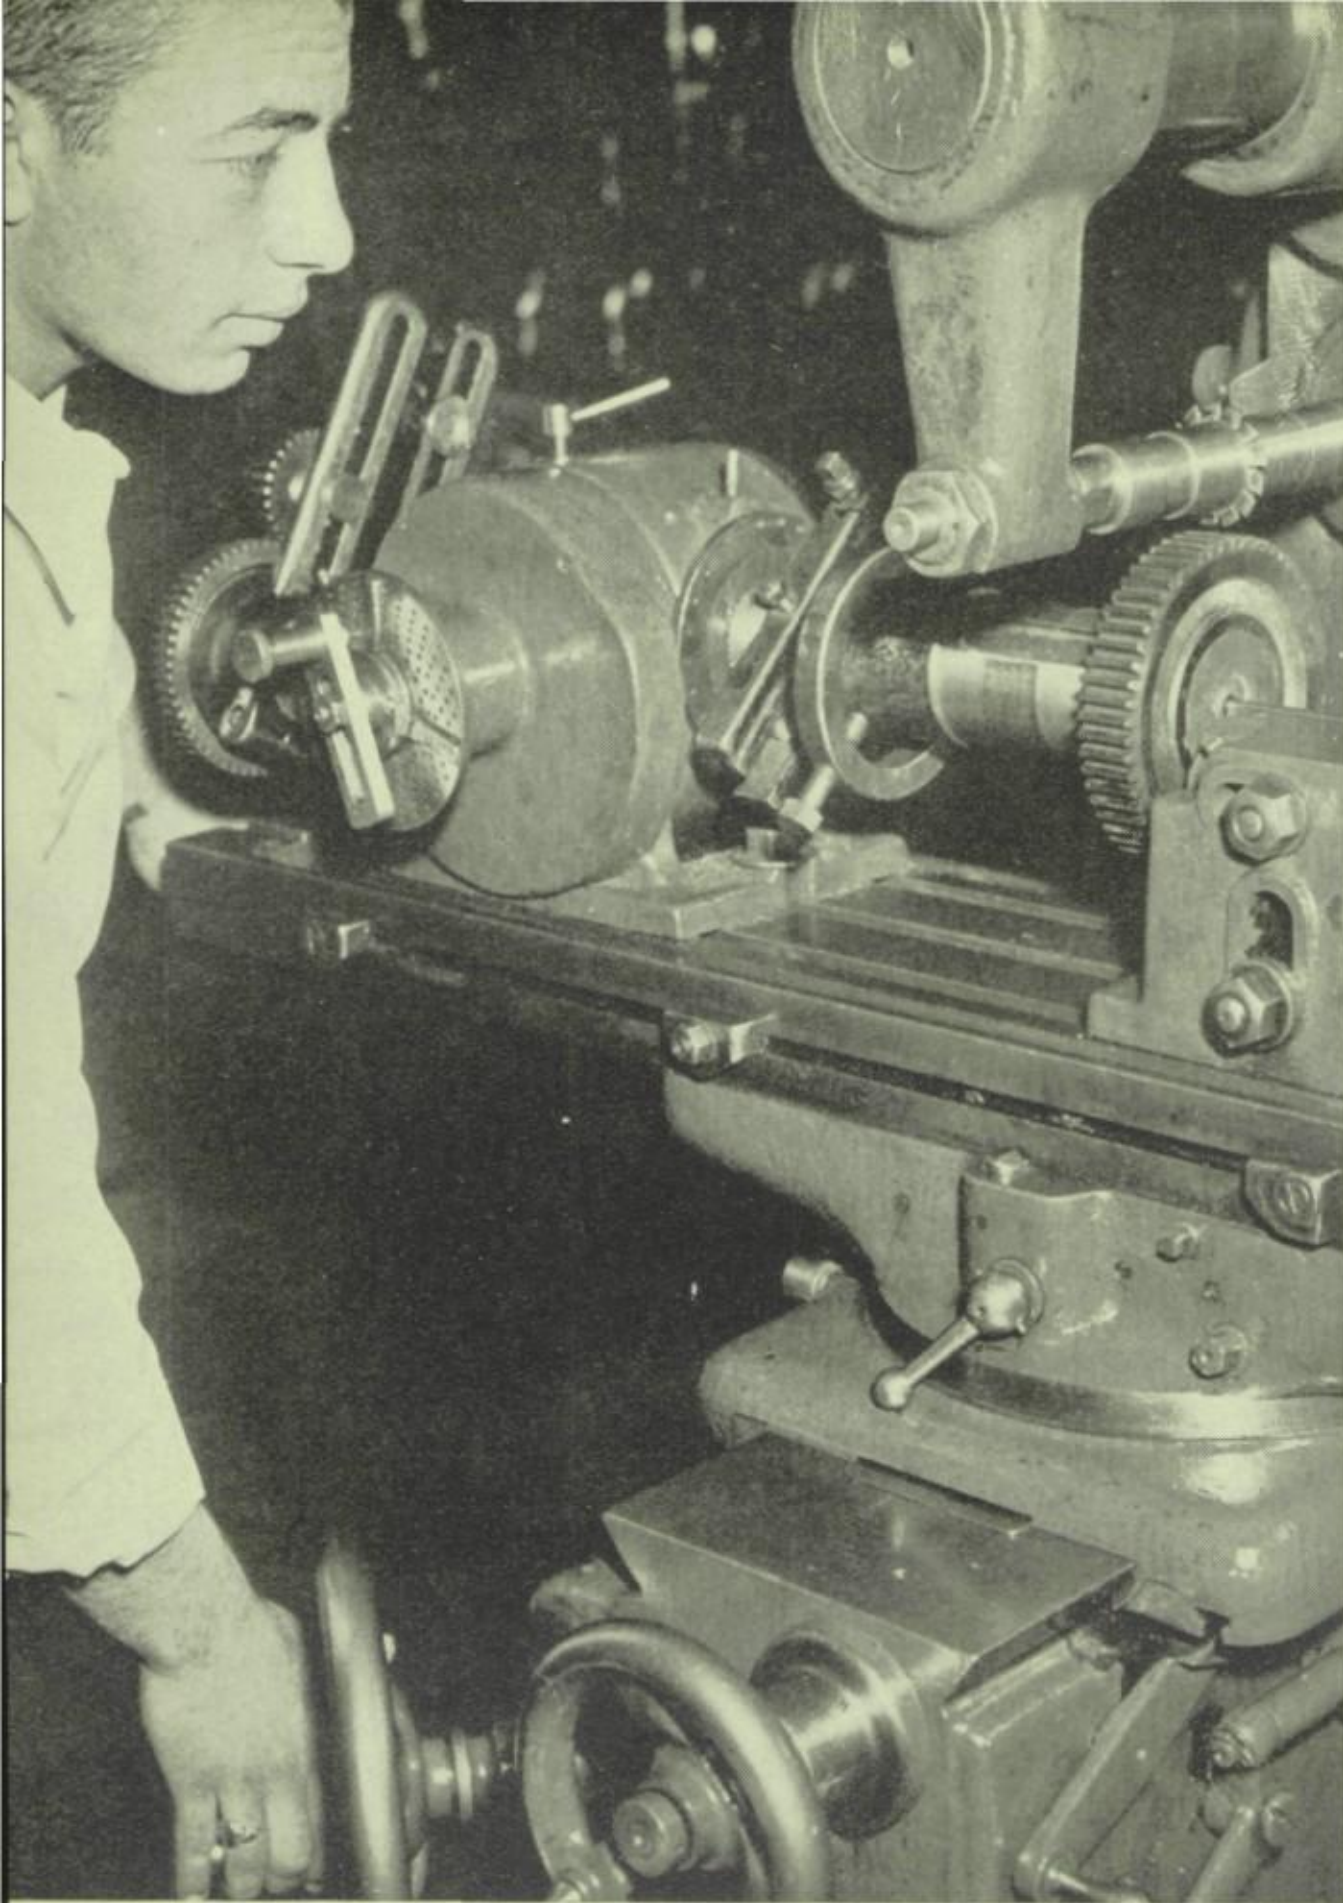

COTTON AND SPRINGS

- Skill and constant care are required in upholstery.
- Expensive covers and fine frames brought to class by members or outsiders show the high esteem in which the classes work is held. This year one of their larger orders was to upholster the furniture used in the offices and the new social hall.

CABINET MAKING

- The school can be justly proud of the work being done in the cabinet making classes under the instruction of Mr. Baird.
- Here the student not only makes numerous articles for use in the home but also furnishes the school with cabinets, chairs and sofas. It is evident that they too, are deriving satisfaction from their work.

"THE FINEST SHOP ORGANIZATION"

. . . is the aim of the students under the instruction of Mr. Arthur Summons.

Foremen are elected every five weeks from among the boys. Mr. Summons acting as superintendent assigns the repair jobs sent in from different departments of the school, to the foreman, who in turn assigns the jobs to the students. When the job is completed, it is given to the foreman, who delivers it to the instructor for the final O.K.

SHEET METAL

- In sheet metal classes, the aim is to stress the more practical treatment of the subject rather than the technical and mathematical side.
- Instead of training them for a specialized job, their instructor, Mr. Marshall, familiarizes them with the skills and tools of several occupations.
- In this way they are organized to develop into versatile rather than specialized workers of the future.

. . . AND THE BOY WAITS

- Beautiful girls! The campus is full of them. Why? Girls at Lincoln are required to spend one hour a week learning how to keep those fascinating features fair.
- Students who show unusual proficiency in this course frequently turn to cosmetology as a profession.

● Now that it is required to take nursing and personal hygiene, students are becoming more acquainted, not only with problems dealing with personal charm but also with such problems as dietetics, clothing, foods, handcrafts, flower arrangement, and social arts, which includes all phases of family relations and social graces.

SHORTEN THE SKIRT

. . . and a neat new blouse will complete the ensemble.

● Inspired by the knowledge that a well dressed woman makes the best impression, girls at Lincoln study and learn how to make suits, skirts, blouses and dresses with professional technique.

"HELP FOR THE NEEDY"

- Girls taking the high school power machine course are receiving professional experience under expert guidance.
- They make sunsuits for the children of Olive View Sanatorium, patient's gowns for the General Hospital, and many other articles of clothing for the American Red Cross.

CREATIVE DANCE

● Lincoln is gradually acquiring another tradition, that of the annual Creative Dance Program, given each spring by the dancing classes. In this year's production, over fifty girls took part under the direction of Miss Katherine Adams.

● Modern interpretive dancing gives them an opportunity to grow in creative self expression and their skill gives ample proof that they have taken advantage of it. Drum rhythms and modern symphonic music offer a background to their interpretations.

MIKADOS

● One of the most active of Lincoln's clubs, the Mikados, are known best for their successful social affairs. Their members are very talented and several have won places in the Festival of Allied Arts and in the annual Japanese Flower Festival.

"BE PREPARED"

● The floor of the new Andrus Hall does not offer the primitive satisfaction of the real campfire scene, but these members of the Girls Scouts relax around the records of their organization in true out-door style.

● At school, these girls have the opportunity to organize and carry on their growth under faculty supervision.

STAMP ENTHUSIASTS

● Stamps . . . fascinating subject to millions, young and old, seems to be the interest of many of the student body.

● Members of the Stamp Club pictured below are shown poring over the beautifully engraved specimens loaned them for one of their displays.

EXCAVATING

- With Mrs. Armstrong as their sponsor, the Science Club has had the enviable reputation of being the club with the most members. The students are so interested in this organization that they meet weekly to discuss scientific and biological achievements.
- These last two semesters have brought many distinguished visitors who not only talked to science club members but have lectured to the entire student body.

OVER THERE

- In the picture below, officers of the Astronomy Club are shown giving the oldest phenomena of the sky a regular workout.
- Since the club has been recently formed, membership is still poor, but those students who have become interested, find it worth their time and effort.

FILM BATH

- Photography becomes less mysterious to members of the camera club after finding out just how a camera really works.
- The only requirement for membership is to have access to any type of camera. This affords the student the opportunity to develop his own technique and to discover for himself the thrill of making prints of all his photographs.

"BAB"

● "Bab," a comedy by Edward Childs Carpenter, was presented October 12, in the Lincoln Auditorium. The excellent direction of Mr. E. J. Wenig and the enthusiasm of the cast made it possible to portray the humor and appeal of the play in such a way that it proved to be one of the most entertaining performances presented this year.

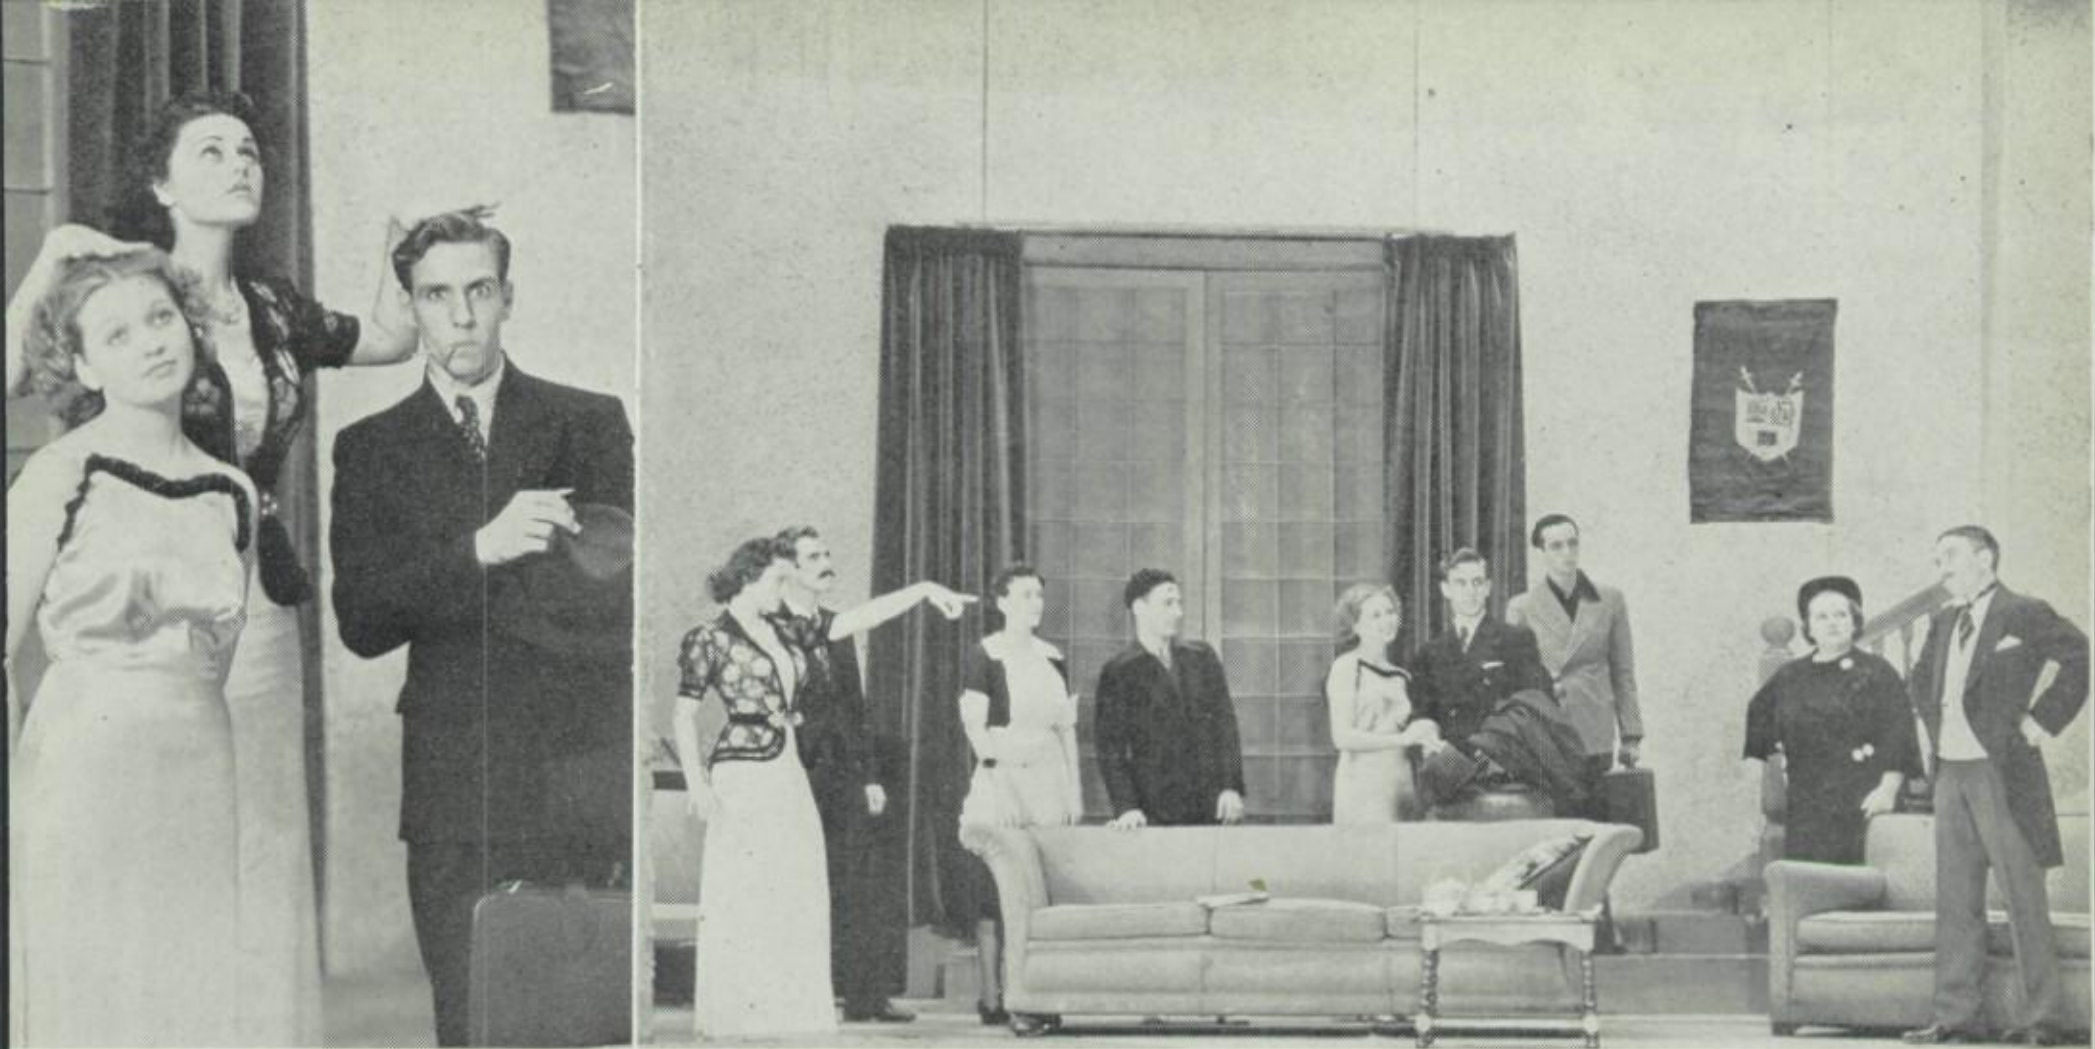

● Leading roles were played by Mary Jane Santa Maria and Harold Greenwood. Other members of the cast were Myrtle Dupuy, Eugene Chenault, James Klain, Frances Merlo, John Doucette, Angelina Durant, Ralph Knowles, Don Morganella and Naomi Grubbs.

"MAD HOPES"

● On the evening of October 18, the Alumni Association presented Rommey Brent's rollicking comedy, "Mad Hopes."

● Included in the cast were many former Lincolmites who had been outstanding in dramatics previous to their graduation. Frances Dickerson and Ralph Loretz, both remembered for their fine performances in "Romeo and Juliet" and "The Taming of the Shrew," enacted the leading roles. In the supporting cast were such well-known thespians as Emma Zubryski, Kenneth Scott, Peter Klain, Aileen Tate, Phyllis Thompson, Roy Cameron and Auron Klain.

● Mr. Edward Wolden, stage manager of the "Pilgrimage Play," directed the play, with the proceeds going into the Alumni Association's Organ Fund.

"THE FAMILY UPSTAIRS"

● Under the student direction of Eugene Chenault and the faculty supervision of Mr. E. J. Wenig, "The Family Upstairs," a hilarious comedy in three acts, was presented on November 16.

● The plot of the story centers around a typical American family who fight, laugh, cry, but nevertheless love each other dearly. The cast included Margaret Salskov, John Doucette, Myrtle Dupuy, Lena Sauers, Eugene Chenault, Stella Lee, Marian Sprott, Bob Stevens and James Klain.

It looks like the gentleman seated (Thomas Finlay) is going to have trouble escaping from Mr. Lord Joe (John Doucette).

Chief Announcer of the "World Hour," the weekly educational radio feature presented by the drama students, is Eugene Chenault. During the past year he participated in a Boys' Week program presented over KFAC and was featured as master of ceremonies at the broadcast officially opening the Lincoln High school Silver Jubilee celebration.

ONE-ACT PLAYS

- Of the three one-act plays presented on the "World Hour" by the drama students, "Her Radio Romeo" proved to be one of the funniest and most amusing. The presentation of this play was different in that it was something new in comedy and farce.
- Another one-act play presented during the year was "A Night at an Inn." This was a mystery thriller dealing with the lives of three sailors who steal a large ruby from an Indian idol and fear retribution. How the play was cleverly worked out proved its success.
- The other one-act play presented was "The Blue Teapot," put on by the Little Thespian society.

MR. E. J. WENIG
Dramatics Instructor

● For the past nine years Mr. E. J. Wenig has been playing the part of the man "behind the scenes." He not only personally directs the student productions but gives freely of his time to others. He is principally responsible for the success of the "California Cavalcade" which was the highlight of the dramatic year.

"HOWDY STRANGER"

● "Howdy Stranger," by Robert Sloane and Louis Pelletier, was a charming production of life on a dude ranch. The play, the S'38 class offering, was most successful for during an exceptional performance, the long moments between acts were cleverly eliminated by fun-provoking specialty numbers. The cast for "Howdy Stranger" included Thomas Finlay, Senior "A" Class President, as Elly Jordan, the cowboy from Brooklyn, and Mary Prince as Jane Hardy, the fair heroine of the play.

● Eugene Chenault played the part of a Jewish theatrical agent who finds in Elly Jordan no end of trouble. Carlos Guerrero was Sam Thorne, a detestable cowpuncher who was always bragging about going on Major Bowes' Amateur Hour.

● Other members of the large cast were: Bob Evans as Pa Hardy, Margaret Salskov as Ma Hardy, Charles Morgan as Tex, James Minnock as Jeff Hardy, Ralph Knowles portrayed Professor Landis, Arnold Paloolian as a ranch hand, Thelma Lyman as Panthea, Edna Hardesty as Miss Semple, Albert Guerrero as Pat Dunn, the press agent, Norman La Vigne as Mr. Jordan, and Dorothy Hartzell as Mrs. Jordan. Armand Allande was the ever ready Bellboy and the Cowboys were played by Robert Caballero and Sam Vizzini.

● The reporters were Frank Cuda, Jack Distaso, Bert Scott, and Angelo Zito.

● The Gibson Girls were Frances Merlo, Marian Beardsley, Suzanne Benner, Margaret Deming, Helen Hardesty, Mary Jane Santa Maria, and Lucille Ritter.

● Dudes were Arnold Paloolian, Marilyn Lund, and Marjorie Hansen.

● "Howdy Stranger" was successful in its sincere interpretation and it was most enthusiastically received by the student body.

Those lovable Peters Sisters, who were screen hits in several Paramount pictures, are seen hitting the high notes of "Bei Mir Bist Du Shone."

ROOSEVELT PARALYSIS BENEFIT

- President Roosevelt's birthday ball and mammoth stage show presented on January 29 at the new Abraham Lincoln High School for the purpose of raising funds for the Warm Springs Foundation, proved to be one of the biggest and most successful affairs of its kind ever to be presented in this district.
- With top-notch stars of stage, screen and radio offering their services, the variety show and dance which was held in the gymnasium, proved to be among the best in the city.
- Joe Penner headed the cast of the many personalities that appeared.
- In one of the highlights of the program, "Curtain Calls," a regular Sunday evening radio feature with Cliff Nazarro as emcee, was given in approved radio fashion.
- Among the two score of entertainers who generously donated their time and services were the three Peters Sisters, Hagar Hartmann, Esther Campbell, Maxine Conrad, Joe and Babe Siegrist, Larry Collins, Alta Turk, Alberto the Magician, and Felix Valle.
- Mr. Clay H. Womack, by whose work on the Roosevelt committee the show was made possible, acted as master of ceremonies.

At the left, Larry Collins, trombonist, and Alta Turk, baritone, receive the acclaim of the enthusiastic audience that attended the mammoth stage show in the new auditorium.

Joe Penner, star of stage, radio and screen, comes back in his modest way to thank his audience for the wonderful way in which they have shown their appreciation. He presented an original Penner skit assisted by his friend and companion "Godfrey."

Pictured at the left is Tom Doyle who enacted the part of Congressman McWillis in the "California's Struggle for Statehood" episode.

A Franciscan padre blesses an Indian youth in the Northeast Optimist Club's contribution to the Silver Jubilee celebration. The pair in real life are Messrs. Otto Schultz and Walt Doron.

Perhaps it's the costumes that are deceiving you, but these gentlemen are prominent citizens of the Lincoln Heights community who participated in the 1776 episode. They are Albert Montenegro, Clarence Eilinger and Paul Burroughs.

These four 1850 senators believed in talking things over outside the senate house and are shown discussing the California Admission Bill. Out of costume, the four are Dr. Joe Haskell, Mr. Tom Doyle, Mr. Harold Bachelor and Mr. Ernie Oates, all prominent men of the district.

The padres convince Governor de Neve that here they will build a fair city. All this took place in the "Founding of Los Angeles" episode. The three gentlemen pictured above are Messrs. Otto Schultz, Dr. W. R. Erwin and Roy Kilpatrick.

"CALIFORNIA CAVALCADE"

- On the nights of June 1 and 2, the community in appreciation for the new Abraham Lincoln High School, presented "California Cavalcade," a historical pageant depicting the memorable dates of 1776, 1781, 1809, 1847, 1850, and the founding of Lincoln High School in 1913.
- The initial episode was the signing of the Declaration of Independence, presented by the American Legion Posts of El Sereno and Lincoln Heights.
- Members of the Northeast Optimist Club dramatized the founding of our fair city, "El Pueblo de Nuestra Senora La Reina de Los Angeles."
- In the third episode members of the Lincoln High School faculty re-lived the time of the great emancipator, Abraham Lincoln.
- Combining their efforts, the faculty, students and residents of the surrounding community enacted the "Surrender of Los Angeles" in the fifth episode.
- The following episode, the year California was admitted to the union, was presented by the members of the Chamber of Commerce. The closing episode was divided into three parts. The first commemorating the founding of our school; the second portraying the new era in which we find ourselves; and lastly, the students of Lincoln pledging themselves to the American ideals of freedom, life and happiness.

"TRIAL BY JURY"

● Gilbert and Sullivan's comic opera, "Trial by Jury," was enthusiastically received by the student body on its presentation over the World Hour. Members of the cast included the combined boys' and girls' second period glee clubs, who were under the supervision of Mrs. Sara Drury and Mr. Fred Graichen.

● The title roles of the bride and judge were sung with spirit by Patricia Moore and John Doucette. Others in the cast were Charles Morgan, defendant; Robert Cervantes, usher; Chris Pocino, foreman; and Wayne Fiedler, counsel for the defendant.

● Composing the jury were Jack ten Naple, Joe Romero, Philip Milazo, Donald Moore, Richard Obregon, Bob Beckett, James Minnock, Frank Curovich, George Montoya, John Butera, and Duncan Connell.

● Bridesmaids were Carol McBrayer, Dolly Giannoni, Iona McMullen, Elaine LeMon, Alice Scott, Josephine Cover, Lena Sauers, Barbara Page, Josephine Hernandez, Mary Louise Fly, Florence Cornolo and Ramona. The other members of the cast made up the audience.

DANCERS

- One of the most striking scenes of the "California Cavalcade" was the interpretation of the "Age of Steel" by the Dancing club, under Miss Katherine Adams' direction.
- In their dance, the girls worked out the story of our civilization, beginning before the machine age when man was closely associated with nature, and finishing with the mechanized and streamlined age of today.

SOCIAL LIVING

● Students of all social living classes study the broad field of man's activities from the beginning of history up to the present. Learning the social requirements of existing harmoniously together is one of the fundamentals of this course, which is required for four years of all students.

THE WORLD TURNS

- Physics plays an important part in the curriculum of college preparatory students.
- Pictures may be deceiving but it takes a lot of study to find out just how simple physics really is. Students find that a combination of scientific knowledge and mathematics in this course, proves invaluable.

CAREER GIRL

● Modern office equipment provided for the commercial students of the school makes it possible for them to become proficient in the shortest possible time. Every phase of business training is encountered and the student who finishes the course must indeed be anxious for a career.

OVER AND OVER AGAIN

● The mimeograph . . . which makes it possible to turn out thousands of copies in a short time not only gives the commercial student another string to his bow but materially assists the school in getting out bulletins and extra material for class study.

EVERYDAY BUSINESS

SHORTHAND

DIVIDED INTEREST

● Fascinating and interesting is the study of chemistry. Outsiders may find it difficult to read chemical symbols but to chemistry students it's really very simple. It's just a matter of putting this with that and you have something.

● It is also evident that chemistry is playing an important part in the everyday needs of the student.

BOTTLED RATTLESNAKE

● Students of the science department grow quite indifferent to the personal aspect of the specimens which they study. Bugs, mice, frogs, plants and birds are studied so that their structural relationships and differences may be noted.

● We wonder if the girl would be in the picture if the snake were alive.

"OLD FAITHFUL"

● "Old Faithful," distinguished Lincoln heirloom, here provides a closeup for Beatrice Lund and Robert Banaugh to study the framework of man.

HOMEMAKERS

- We can say that beautifully served food is more pleasing when the hostess smiles.
- Dainty trifles to tease the appetite and please the eye are only a few of the dishes that these enthusiastic homemakers serve. Delicious odors of cake, and candies, not to mention roasts and such, make the homemaking room so popular that its doors frequently have to be closed to the hungry students passing in the halls.

ON THE DOTTED LINE

● Cutting and drafting patterns is only the first step along the way to clothes that have that imported look about them. The girls in the sewing classes tailor a suit or make numerous things which little brother and sister most need. This offers them an opportunity to be thrifty.

AUTO MECHANICS

● The photographer was divided on the question of whether the auto shop students shown in the above pictures were working on the intake or the gears. However, no division exists among the students. They all agree that they would rather work in the auto shop than in any other field.

● The student auto mechanic repairs automobiles and in some instances makes repairs to bodies and fenders.

INTRICATE

- With new fields constantly opening up, the electricity class under Mr. Pearson has entered various phases of the electrical line.
- An important feature of this work are the assignments handed out to the members of the class. They include the repairing of batteries, radios, electrical motors and the rebuilding of first class radio sets.

VARSITY FOOTBALL SEASON

- Starting the season off with a brilliant 14-0 win over Belmont on the L.A.J.C. field, under the mentorship of Coach Homer Oliver, the Tigers came within a half game of tying the heavy Roosevelt aggregation for runner-up honors.
- Losing the practice game to Manual Arts 13-0, the Oliverites were tied by Marshall in the last half 6-6 while the latter was slaughtered 35-7 in the city title game by the tough Artesian eleven.
- The week previous to the Marshall scrap, Coach Tom Denny's Roosevelt squad ran rough shod over the Railsplitters 46-0. Two weeks later, a sleepy Tiger machine edged out the weak Garfield eleven 6-0. In this game, Captain Earl Cludy broke his finger while the remainder of the line's left flank was taken out because of minor injuries.
- Two postponements of the Franklin tilt because of letter painting resulted with no game with the Kiteflyer eleven. Instead, the Railsplitters met Poly and fell before the Southern League cellar champs 15-7. Soon afterwards, the boys handed in their togs.

CLASS B FOOTBALL

- Climaxing the year with a thrilling 6-0 victory over the Poly Mechanics in a post-season game, the Bengal lightweights brought their football season to a dramatic close.
- After a slow start in which they lost their first encounter to the Belmont Sentinels 7-6 on a bad break, they came back strong to tie a favored Roosevelt eleven, 6-6. The following week they smothered Marshall 14-7.
- Next to fall victims to the Emancipators were the Garfield Bullpups who lost only after a grand fight, 12-6. They finished their league schedule with a victory over the Franklin Panthers, 13-0.

VARSITY

● Dale Beck managed the varsity quintet which met five successive defeats in the Northern League after the squad had virtually taken the city by storm during the practice session.

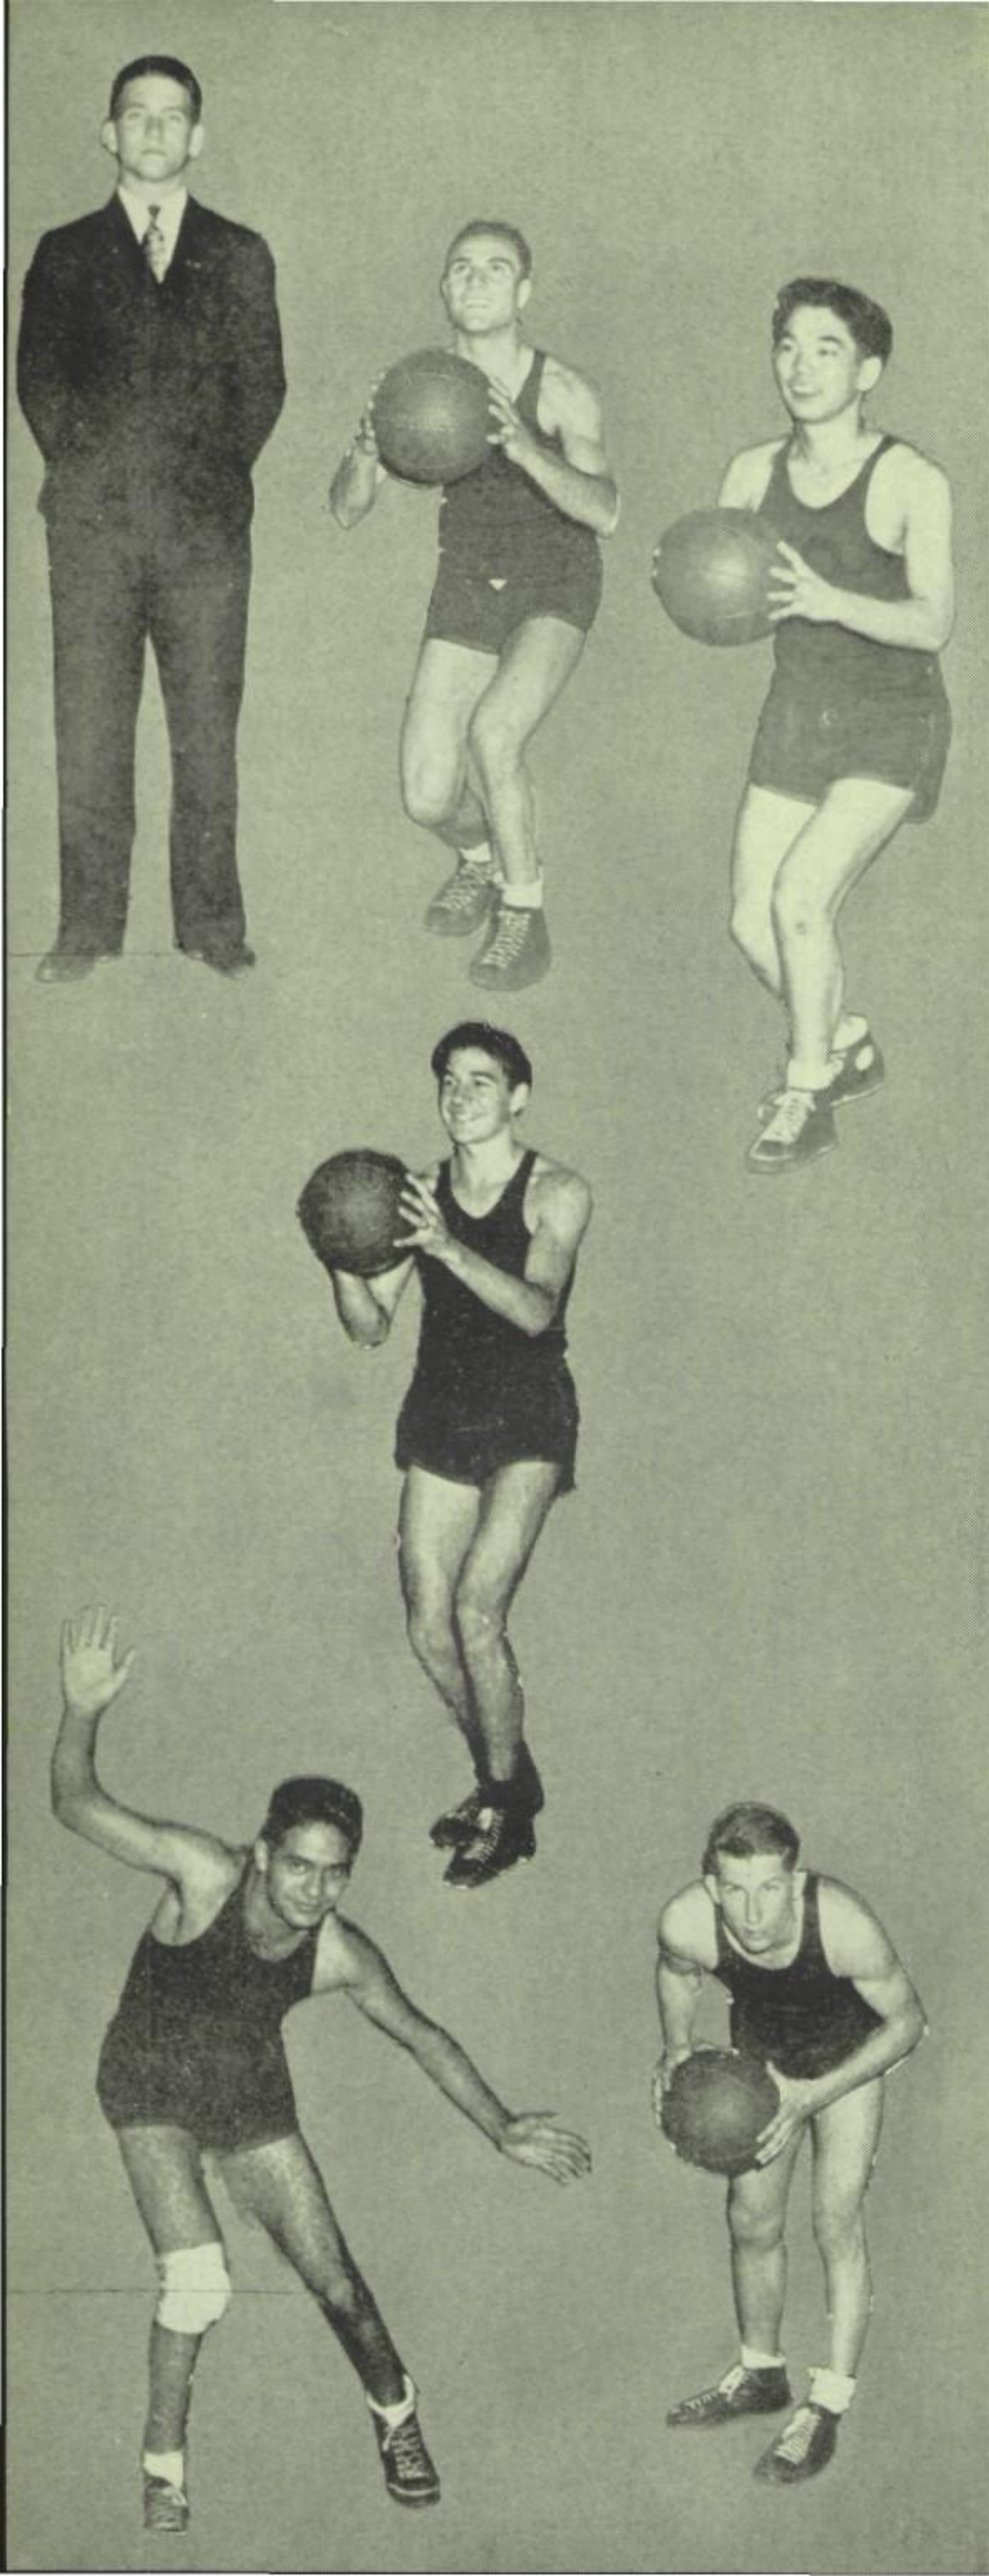

● Smiling at the basket, Mike (Dead Eye) Provenzano arches the basketball for a long shot with judgment that enabled the W'38 senior aye to be high point man in most of the games.

● The Oriental mellow-tosser is Kazuo Furuto, alternate forward who could easily step in and relieve a tiring team mate from action. Furuto graduates with the S'38 class

● Ineligibility of Alex MacGillivray to be a member of the basketball squad next season under Coach Fuhrer may be brought about by the former participating in football. The present rule prohibits an athlete from participating in two winter sports.

● Spreading himself out in wind-mill fashion to stop a hostile invasion, Guard Gilbert Carrasco smiles as he returns to the roster next season. If Alex is ineligible, Carrasco will be the only letterman returning for the basketball wars.

● Ernest Cornolo passed the ball downward past an opponent after decoying him by looking up. In this same manner he made field goals during his playing moments as a forward.

BASKETBALL

● Wayne Schooley looked at the cameraman and threw the ball in another direction to trick him just as he did his opponents previous to his graduation in W'38. Shuttling from center to forward positions whenever the need arose, Wayne was constantly in the melee blocking passes.

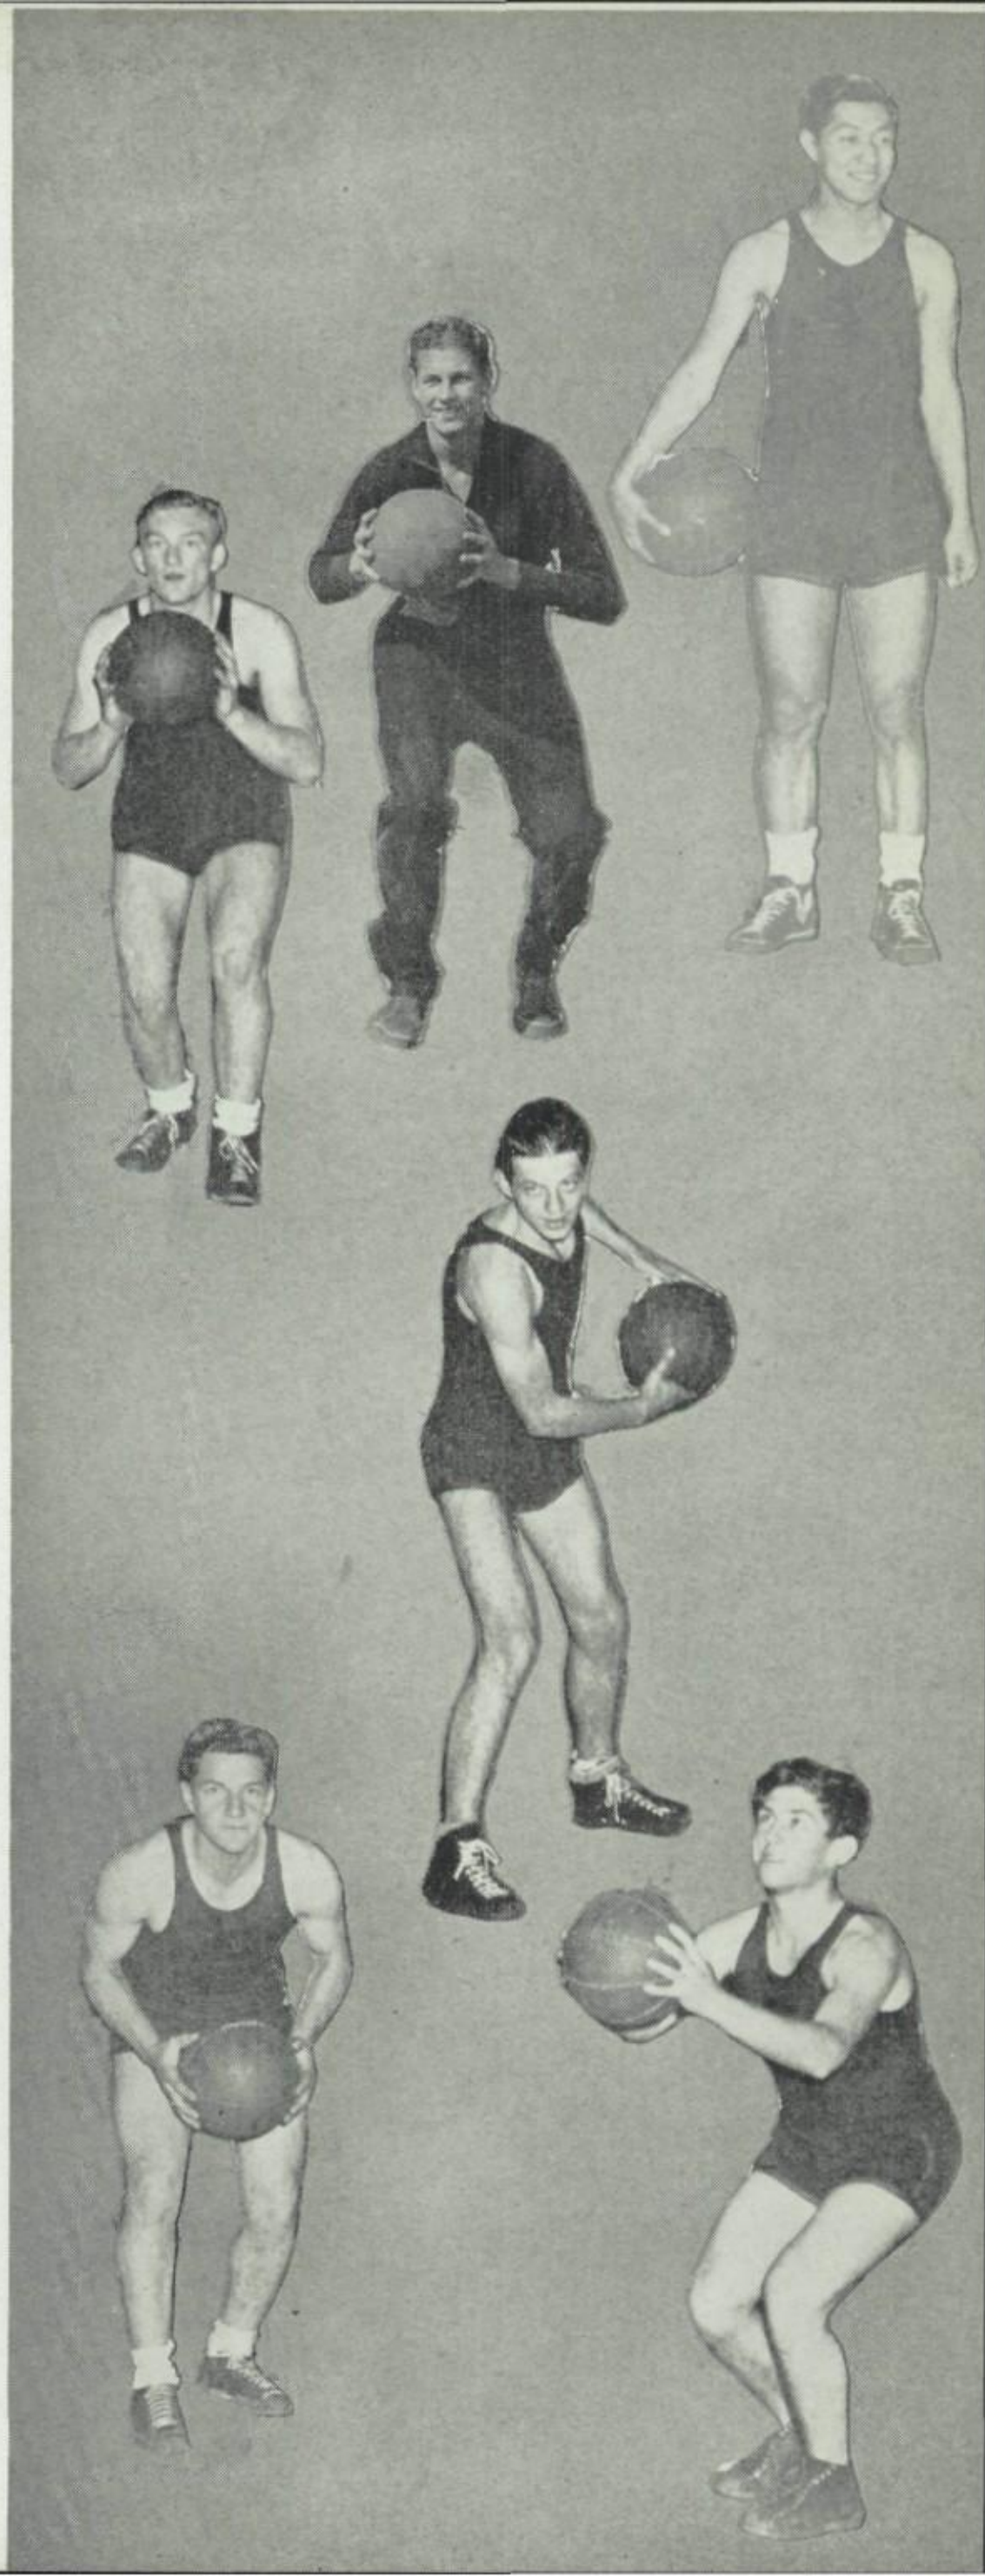

● Photographed in a warm-up suit, Frank Mays entered his last season as the tallest center in the Northern circuit before his graduation with the class of W'38. Ranging past the six foot mark, he encountered little competition from other pivot men.

● Resting for the moment, Guard Frank Kuramoto holds the ball idly between quarters after a heavy barrage against his basket. Alternating with the other guards, he was able to supply his team mates with the ball the majority of the time. He graduates with the S'38 class.

● Shown in the act of passing the ball to another player, Alex Petrovich kept the casaba moving towards team mates and the basket during his substitution at the center position. He is one of the many graduating this June.

● Challenging his opponents in this manner, Frank Miali moved the ball up into hostile territory to raise his par on scoring with difficult side-shots. With many of the others, he graduated in W'38.

● Failing to make his letter by a few points, John Bertleoni will return next season and is scheduled to see plenty of action.

CLASS "B"

● Joe Carbone passes the ball here nearly the same way as he did during the games when the Bee squad were runnerups for the Northern League crown. Coming up from the Cee division, this lad kept step with the fast moving Batesmen.

● Posing for a free-shot, Abram Androff grins shortly before sinking the ball in the basket to lengthen the lead over an invading quintet. A Cee veteran the previous season, experience may place him on the varsity.

● His constant contention for high point honors has made Tom Doyle an enlivened memory as the W'38 graduate kept sinking baskets from all angles with accuracy. Playing the center position, he did equally well on the defense.

● With flaming red hair and a beaming smile, Kenneth Reese entered into the thickest minus the latter. A grim determination glowed on his face as he endeavored to move the ball out of the danger zone.

● All the glory wasn't stolen from John Garcia, who constantly appeared in the limelight because of his all-around defensive performances. In this picture, he displays how he accounted for many of the points.

BASKETBALL

● Guarding his goal zealously, John Vera kept the opponents from scoring various times by preventing them from trespassing. His ability and experience may land him a berth on the varsity next season.

● Frank Borra managed the Bees through three victories and two defeats after the lightweights had suffered a dismal practice season. During the games, he acted as a yell leader to bolster team spirit.

● Returning from last season's squad, Warren Strang was rushed in at the center position to relieve his teammate from that tiring position.

● Economi Kunitomi will return for action next season. This year was the first time he had played for a Lincoln team.

● Refugio Sanchez crouched this way many times before shooting a basket. He graduates with the S'38 class.

● Alfred Guiboa was shifted from the Cee division to the Bees so the latter could take advantage of his height. He also graduates this June.

Best wishes

VARSIITY BASKETBALL

● During the practice session, Coach "Pop" Bates's cage squad showed formidable strength in defeating such worthy opponents as Fremont, L. A. High, Poly, Pasadena J. C. and other strong quintets.

● A glance at the schedule of league games shows the high caliber of opposition. There wasn't a soft spot on the schedule. The boys deserve a world of praise for the way in which they held up through the strenuous campaign. They were never beaten badly and they always fought up to the final whistle of every court battle.

● Leading a powerful Belmont quintet until the last two minutes of play, the Batesmen lost their first league game of the season by the slim margin of 3 points, 29-32.

● Roosevelt's Roughriders lived up to their name by successfully riding the Tiger quintet. Matching almost point for point in the second half, the Tigers were unable to close the large gap between the scores. The final score, Lincoln 21, Roosevelt 38.

● Next, Lincoln met its traditional rivals from Franklin before an enthusiastic crowd of former Lincolnites, only to lose decisively, 39-33.

● On the following Friday the Marshall hoop artists came to the Lincoln court with their basket-finding eyes trained a little better to win 41-28.

● The next and final encounter was with the boys from Garfield.. Once more the Emancipators came out on the short end of the score, 38-49.

VARSITY BASEBALL

- Limping through the leanest baseball season Lincoln has seen in years, Coach Frank Malette's Tigers came through with one win and five losses to be cellar-mates with Roosevelt in the Northern League.
- With only Lincoln, Roosevelt, Marshall, and Franklin composing the circuit, the Tigers met each opponent twice, losing by close scores.
- Dropping the first game to Roosevelt 5-0, the Tigers came back several weeks later to edge out the Colonels 3-2. Franklin, traditional rivals, ran away with the league pennant with a mediocre team while the Tigers came the closest to upsetting the Panthers, losing both games 3-1 and 5-4. Marshall finished the Tigers' humiliation by dusting off the Malettemen 8-5 and 7-6.
- At the early part of the season, it was announced that this would be Lincoln's last on the diamond if the hardball artists failed to make expenses. Although money was lost on the venture, no word has been received regarding the sport's fate.

GYM TEAM

- Finishing fifth in the league finals and seventh in the All-City meet, the Lincoln Gym Team completed an exciting year.
- Against Fremont a close decision of $64\frac{1}{2}$ to $55\frac{1}{2}$ told the story of the hard lost practice meet.
- In the first league encounter, competition with Roosevelt, strongest team in the Northern Loop netted Lincoln $44\frac{1}{2}$ points to $105\frac{1}{2}$ for the Teds.
- Circumstances and close decisions let the monkeymen down to the tune of $86\frac{1}{2}$ to $59\frac{1}{2}$ in the Garfield encounter.
- After losing by a close score to their rivals from Franklin, $74\frac{1}{2}$ to $69\frac{1}{2}$, the Tigers went on a winning streak and defeated Belmont 67 to 66 and Marshall High, 103 to 44 on successive weeks.
- Outstanding men during the season were Ralph Enriquez, parallel bars and free exercise; Leo Villarreal, side horse and rings; Bill Bell, tumbling and rings; Ernest Cornolo, long horse and rope climb; Frank Stancik, horizontal bar; Fernando Maisterra, long horse; Jack ten Naple, tumbling; and Carl Boy, also a tumbler. Mickey Digiacinto, Tumbler!

RALPH ENRIQUEZ

VARSITY TRACK

- Not faring as well as expected, a potential championship cinder squad under the tutelage of Coach Jerry Russom lost all its dual meets and finished fourth in the League finals.
- With bright hopes the Tigers swept into the cinder season as Frank Kunz, champion league sprinter, and Phil Diez, also a league champ as a "B" hurdler, returned with two capable men in Bill Joseph, pole vaulter, and Elias Castaneda aiding.
- In the first encounter the Bengals met the League champions from Belmont and managed to cop but two firsts, and so the final score stood, Lincoln $31 \frac{2}{5}$ and Belmont $71 \frac{3}{5}$.
- The following week the Lincoln squad dropped a close 60 to 44 meet to the Marshall Barristers, although Frank Kunz captured both dashes to star for the locals.
- In their third tangle, Franklin managed to nose out the Tigers $60 \frac{1}{2}$ to $43 \frac{1}{2}$ after being pressed all the way. Frank Kunz, Phil Diez and Bill Stair were the standouts for the Tigers in this meet.
- Garfield was the next hurdle in the Bengal's path, but it proved too tough for the Lincoln squad. The Tigers put up a grand fight but lost 56 to 48. Kunz captured both dashes and Diez set a new school record in the low timber race and tied the high stick standard.
- Against the combined forces of Roosevelt and Garfield the Tigers made a far better showing, scoring 37 points to the Teds $68 \frac{4}{7}$ and the Bulldogs $44 \frac{3}{7}$.
- In the Northern League finals held at Garfield on May 27, Roosevelt was a surprise winner over the dual meet champions from Belmont. Final scores were: Roosevelt, 50; Belmont, $48 \frac{1}{4}$; Garfield, $26 \frac{3}{4}$; Lincoln, $25 \frac{1}{2}$; Marshall, $15 \frac{1}{2}$; and Franklin, 14.

A FLYING FINISH

Frank Kunz out-sprints Don Boyer of Franklin to win the 100-yard dash in 10.3 during one of the dual meets.

OVER THE TOP

Winning the pole vault for the Cee tracksters was almost a weekly occurrence for Koichi Sugita.

CLASS B TRACK

- The lightweight band of tracksters won but one meet during the season.
- Frank Caso and Humberto Papa were the outstanding performers on the squad. Both are hurdlers and return next season. The Abe long distance men and high jumpers also showed up well in the dual meets.

CLASS C TRACK

- The Class "C" squad had the most luck in their campaigns. Led by Teizo Koda and Koichi Sugita, the midgets placed high in the standings and lost but one dual meet all season.
- Koda put the 8-lb. ball over 50 feet in every meet and set a new school record for the event as did Koichi Sugita in the pole vault.
- Donald Chenault, Reno and Joe Di Sano, Bennie Herera, Joe Houseman and other performers did a good job in carrying the "C" torch.

SAILING

● These two varsity men, Ronnie Sugiyama and Phil Diez, made a name for themselves in the high and low hurdles.

OOH!

● Breaking his own record became a habit with Teizo Koda as he continually pushed the 8-lb. pellet past the standing mark.

VARSITY TENNIS

● More interest, both in aspirants and in members of the student body, was evidenced this year, as Lincoln produced a team that was one of its strongest for many seasons. Under Coach "Pop" Bates, their new mentor, the Tiger netters got off to a fine start by defeating a strong Loyola High squad in their first practice tilt. But as the season progressed the team dropped all their league matches in a surprise reversal of form. Garfield and Belmont teams were given a run for their money as the team gained strength at the end of the season.

● Prospects are that next year's team will be one of the best ever turned out as several of the best men of this year's squad are Juniors.

SINGLES

- Albert Gaghagan, a veteran and former Captain played the best tennis of his career. His improvements during the past two years make him one of the coming players in the city.
- Captain Gilbert Carrasco was one of the mainstays of the team. He proved to be one of the most consistent members of the squad.
- Jimmy Jones is another man on the team who deserves a lot of credit for his all-around play.
- Bert Scott, playing his second and last year for the varsity took over his duties in fine style. He will be missed next year.
- Donald Ferris, also a member of the Gym Club, worked hard on his game and as a result showed much improvement.

DOUBLES

- Warren Strang and Benny Gonzales played well together and should be playing singles next year. They are both Juniors and are eligible for only one more year of competition.
- Henry Miller and Homer Demming were steady and reliable players and were of great help to the team.
- Charles Morgan, the hard working manager of the team deserves no end of credit and praise.

CHESS AND CHECKER CLUB

● Chess and Checker enthusiasts meet faithfully every noon hour to discuss and play the game of kings. Through constant play, many members of the club have improved their game and thereby have come to enjoy the advantages the game offers. Mr. MacFarlane is the sponsor of the club.

JUNIOR AND SENIOR MIXER

- In the picture above, Juniors and Seniors are shown playing volleyball in mass groups. On this particular occasion, the inauguration of the first mixer between the two upper grades, the Juniors broke even with the mighty Seniors.
- After the playday, a dance in the gymnasium climaxed the festivities.

GIRLS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

- This year the G.A.A. has been under the sponsorship of Miss Jan Thorpe and Miss Virginia Penn, who have carried out the program of the organization with an enthusiasm which has assured its success.
- The purpose of the G.A.A. is to create a greater spirit of sportsmanship, loyalty and athletic achievement among the girls of Lincoln.
- The number of active G.A.A. members this year has almost reached the two hundred mark, and the association has played an increasingly important part in the life of the school. Girl sports after school include baseball, speedball, basketball, dancing, hockey, tennis and volleyball.
- The Tigerettes enjoyed a varied program during the spring semester when they attended two playdays. One was held at Belmont and the other at Roosevelt with the following schools participating: Belmont, Jefferson, Huntington Park, Fairfax, Roosevelt and Lincoln. Parties were held often during the year.

These athletic young ladies seem to be very intent on that good old game of basketball. Maybe it's the new two-court rules that make them so interested or just that Alice Carreon has done so well as head of the G.A.A.

BASEBALL

With the gym as the background, these girls exercise in hitting the old apple for a ride when playing the game of baseball.

HOCKEY

● This sort of exercise takes a lot of endurance as well as a good deal of skill, but these girls seem to think it's worth the effort. With Dorothy Thomas as leader of this sport they practiced faithfully.

G. A. A. LEADERS

VOLLEYBALL

● Volleyball aroused unusual interest this year and gave a good indication of the active interest that was to mark this year as a good one for girl sports.

● In the two different shots at the left, the girls are shown playing the game with real enthusiasm. Soccer, also an outdoor sport offered to girls taking after school sports, was played often during the year.

● With the opening of the new Andrus Hall and the completion of all buildings and walks, the students eagerly awaited the beginning of the social events.

● On the lunch court the seniors held their sweater day celebration and dance. Opened soon after the winter semester, the social hall was the scene of most of the class dances, parties and get-together affairs. And as the year came to a close, the social calendar was climaxed by the traditional proms and the farewell parties of the lower-classmen.

THE SENIOR ORCHESTRA

● A great deal of enthusiastic attention has been paid to our school orchestra. The wonderful work this organization has done reveals the exceptional ability of its new director, Mr. Fred Graichen.

● At the beginning of the semester, the orchestra played for the seniors' variety show and for their commencement exercises. They also played at all the night play performances given by the drama department. It has proved its value not merely to the school but to the entire community.

LINCOLN CONCERT SWING BAND

- Another group of musically inclined students under the direction of Mr. Louis W. Tozier, is the swing concert band which entertained the students in a swing concert given the latter part of May.
- Many of these same students who are members of this concert group have played as student groups at many of the class parties and dances held in the social hall or elsewhere.
- Participating in nearly every social affair, the bands under Mr. Tozier contribute a definite service to the school, and at once offer opportunities for the musical advancements of its members.

APPRECIATION

On this page I wish to express my sincere appreciation to those who through their combined efforts have made possible the publication of this book.

The staff and our advisor, Mrs. Jessie Elliott for the cooperation and guidance.

Mr. Kenneth C. Stevener of Adcraft Engraving Company for the help on engravings and layouts.

Mrs. Guenthard of the Henderson Trade Bindery Company for the helpful suggestions on the cover and paper stock.

And Mr. Kenneth L. Melton, Mr. Vernon Simpson and all the boys at the Stationers Corporation for all their encouragement and enthusiastic patience.
